India Taking No Action on Tibet Revolt

Nehru Rejects Pleas To Intervene, Notes Treaty With Peiping

NEW DELHI (AP) — Prime Minister Nehru today said fighting apparently has subsided in the Tibetan capital and the Indian government has no intention of intervening in the revolt against Chinese Communist rule.

"Apparently the situation in Lhasa has somewhat quieted down," the Indian prime minister reported.

Leader's Fate Unknown

Nehru told Parliament he had no reliable information on the fate of the Dalai Lama, Tibet's 23-year-old spiritual and political leader. He said he could only hope he was safe.

The Hong Kong correspondent of the Times of India reported the young god-king was under house arrest in Lhasa, his capital. The report said Peiping had ordered the Chinese military governor of Tibet, Gen. Chang Ching Wu, to "persuade" the Dalai Lama—considered by Tibetans to be the reincarnation of Buddha—to come to the Red Chinese capital in order to withdraw his moral support from the rebels.

Answers Criticism

Nehru in his remarks to Parliament was in effect answering several Indian newspapers who had criticized his failure to intercede with Peiping on behalf of the Tibetans and the Dalai Lama.

India has long recognized Chinese sovereignty over Tibet, though until the Communists invaded the remote mountain plateau in 1950, the Dalai Lama and his church organization governed Tibet with only occasional interference from the central Chinese government.

Nehru told Parliament the situation in Tibet remains most delicate and "we are not doing anything to make the situation worse."

No Intent To Interfere

"We have no intention of interfering in the internal matters of China," he declared, pointing out that India has a treaty of friendly coexistence with Peiping.

The Hong Kong dispatch to the Times of India said Tibetans were "upset over India's inability to do anything on their behalf and regret New Delhi's 'inferiority complex' in relation to China—a complex that prevents India from saying or doing anything that might not be to Peiping's liking."

Compromise Plan Drafted During Talks

Agenda for Summer Parley Would Be Set By Foreign Ministers

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan have proposed that the Western Allies adopt a three-point approach to a summit conference with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev this summer.

It was learned today that this was the compromise formula agreed on in talks between the two Western leaders at Camp David, Md., Saturday.

Now under discussion by West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and French President Charles de Gaulle, it represents a compromise between Macmillan's urgent desire to meet with Khrushchev unconditionally and Eisenhower's reluctance to meet without promise of achievement.

The three points:

1. The Big Four powers — the United States, Britain, France and the Soviet Union—should open a foreign ministers meeting at Geneva May 11; Khrushchev has already substantially agreed to this. The foreign ministers should reach agreements on the widest possible range of German and related problems, try to narrow Soviet-West differences and prepare proposals for a later summit conference.

2. The heads of government should hold their meeting when justified by the work of the foreign ministers.

3. The foreign ministers therefore would have the responsibility of determining the time, place, and subject matter of the summit conference.

Blast Blocks Operation in Mine Strike

Dynamite Explosion Damages Building, Sabotage Is Suspected

ST. CHARLES, Va. (AP) — A dynamite blast damaged a coal-loading building at a nonunion mine in Lee County early today. There were no injuries.

Ramsey Brock, one of two brothers operating the mine near the Kentucky border, said the blast appeared to have been set by someone familiar with the mine and "was very strategically placed."

The mine was reopened last Monday by Ramsey and Lee Brock of Harlan, Ky. The Brocks leased the facility from Halward Oil & Gas Co. of Knoxville, Tenn., which bought it a month ago from Blue Diamond Coal Co.

Blue Diamond had operated the mine for about 50 years, with a peak employment of 600 men. The mine was organized by the United Mine Workers Union before it closed a short time ago.

Porter Greer, deputy sheriff, said the blast occurred about 2 a.m.

Mine Blast Is Fatal To 8 in Tennessee

ROBBINS, Tenn. (AP) — Eight men were reported killed today in a coal mine explosion near here.

The explosion occurred in the Brimstone mine.

State Police said rescuers had not been able to reach the miners, but eight were believed to be dead. There were no immediate reports on how many miners were in the mine.

Robbins is in Scott County about 75 miles northwest of Knoxville.

Body of Child, 9, Found

Police in Spokane Seek Girl's Killer

SPOKANE, (AP) — An aroused police force vowed today to find the killer of Candy Rogers, a 9-year-old Campfire girl whose ravished body was found in a clump of woods after a 16-day search.

"We'll put every available man on the case and keep them there until the thing is solved," said Police Chief Clifford Payne, father of a daughter aged 9.

"We know what we're looking for now. We're looking for a maniac."

Buried Under Brush Pile

He said it appeared the child had been picked up on a street corner, raped, strangled with a piece of her own slip, then buried under a pile of brush miles from town—all within a few hours 17 days ago.

Never before has Spokane or its 230-man police force been so stirred by a case. The pretty fourth-grader vanished March 6 while selling Campfire mints door to door near her home.

Police found six boxes of mints scattered near a bridge in the 12 hours that followed the disappearance, then ran into a blank wall despite 750 tips from substantial citizens, skid row bums and tea leaf readers. Three searchers in an Air Force helicopter were killed in a crash.

Volunteers Comb Canyon

Thousands of volunteers combed the canyon below Candy's home, scoured along the banks of the canyon's Spokane River, checked garages, old cars and—with apologies beforehand—homes of reputable residents.

They found nothing. Television appeals by Catholic and Episcopal bishops produced not a trace. Then came an unexpected break.

Two enlisted men from Fairchild Air Force Base, Howard S. Lawrence, 19, and Richard Bergan, 21, found a small pair of blue suede shoes Saturday while hunting woodchucks in remote woods 12 miles from town, northwest of where the search had been concentrated.

Officer Spots Body

At dawn Sunday, a half dozen officers gathered at the scene of the airmen's discovery. A patrolman spotted a knee sticking out from under a pile of faded pine needles. He brushed them away carefully.

"No use going any further—here she is," said Inspector Robert Piper, who personally had run down scores of fruitless leads since the search began.

An autopsy showed little Candy had been raped. Her legs had been tied by a piece of her petticoat. Another piece was strung around her neck. There was blood on her face and neck.

Candy's mother, Mrs. Elaine Rogers, a high school teacher, collapsed and put under deep sedation. The child's father, salesman Carl Rogers of Milton-Freewater, Ore., rushed here to comfort her.

Street Repair Is Stepped Up

Five Crews at Work Patching Chuckholes

City service crews were out in force today patching chuckholes in the city streets, Safety-Service Director Howard W. Travis reported.

He said five dump trucks and crews were assigned to street patching duties today. They are expected to use a total of about 50 tons of cold mix asphalt a day in the repair work.

Under terms of an existing contract, the asphalt mix is purchased from the Wyandot Blacktop Co. at a price of $7.50 a ton, he said. Cost of material alone thus will run to about $375 a day, according to estimates.

He also reported today that service department crews are busy repairing and rebuilding catch basins throughout the city. Rebuilt catch basins are constructed of steel reinforced concrete, he said. Most of the existing catch basins were constructed of brick and require considerable repair and maintenance, he said.

Lack of Iraqi Aid Blasted in Nasser's Talk

UAR President Raps Stand by Kassem in Battle Against Israel

CAIRO (AP)—President Gamal Abdel Nasser has accused his rival, Iraqi Premier Abdel Karim Kassem, of committing the Arab sin of refusing to aid in "a fight to the finish" against Israel.

In another fighting speech broadcast from Damascus, the president of the United Arab Republic castigated Kassem and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, whom he called Kassem's backer.

For the first time Nasser asserted the Soviets' ultimatum had nothing to do with halting the British-French-Israeli attack on Egypt in 1956.

Fighting Has Stopped

He said fighting had stopped before the Soviet ultimatum arrived Nov. 6, 1956. He also said the Soviets gave Egypt no aid during the Suez fighting, and that they had not supported last July's Iraqi revolution against the former pro-Western regime.

The Soviet Union threatened Britain and France with its atomic power on Nov. 5. Britain and France ordered a cease-fire in the Suez war Nov. 7. In the West, American opposition to the war and not the Soviet threat was generally believed responsible for the decision to end hostilities. But the Arab world, led by Nasser, gave most or all of the credit to the Soviets.

Anticipated Attack

Nasser said the Israelis launched a series of attacks on the Syrian frontier late last year and that he anticipated an all-out attack.

To meet such an attack, he continued, he planned a fight to the finish and asked Kassem to send troops to help, but Kassem refused, Nasser asserted.

Nationwide 'Fix' Broken

11 Arrested by FBI In Puzzle Swindle

WASHINGTON (AP)—The FBI today announced the arrests of 11 persons in what it described as a nationwide swindle involving newspaper puzzle contests.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said the swindle operations crossed the U.S.-Canadian border. FBI agents today picked up four persons in Oregon, three in Michigan, two in Pennsylvania, and one each in Indiana and Wisconsin.

They were charged with conspiracy to violate the federal mail fraud and fraud by wire statutes.

Similar charges have been filed against two other persons in Canada and a resident of Minnesota. None of these three is in custody.

Oregon Papers Ask Probe

Two Portland, Ore., newspapers —The Oregonian and The Journal — announced several weeks ago they had heard reports of a "fix" on newspaper puzzle contests. They dropped such contests from their papers and asked the FBI to investigate. Officials in Portland joined in the request.

Hoover's announcement said the investigation showed that answers to puzzle contests conducted by two New York feature syndicates, obtained in advance by a devious scheme, were used in winning more than $45,000 between November 1958 and February of this year.

Establish Base in Canada

The FBI said the ringleaders in the operation established a base in Canada and subscribed to the puzzle feature services, using the name and address of a non-existent newspaper company which they called "Suburban Publishers, Ltd., 220 Epworth, London, Ontario, Canada."

The FBI said the feature services do not furnish contest answers to a subscribing newspaper, but to a bank, to be held in confidence until the deadline has passed for submission of solutions.

Hoover said "Suburban Publishers" supplied the syndicates with the name of a fictitious bank, the "Middlesex Trust Co.," with the mailing address P.O. Box 699, Byron, Ontario, Canada.

Answers Picked Up

The puzzle answers sent to this box were picked up by the ringleaders in Canada. Others living in the United States entered the contests with the benefit of solutions supplied by telephone from either Detroit or Canada. The individual winners, the FBI said, were allowed to keep a small share of the prize money, while the bulk of the cash was delivered to the ring's Canadian headquarters.

Easter Series

For a moving experience in religious reading, be sure to see "Epistles From a Roman" —a fascinating Easter series starting today in The Star.

Written by Tom Henshaw, Associated Press religious writer, the series presents the classic scene of the Easter story through the words of a Roman soldier stationed in Jerusalem and caught up by Christ's powerful appeal.

The soldier, in letters to his father, reveals his gradual change from mocking disbelief to devoted admiration.

12 Cars on Erie Train Derailed

None Hurt, Mishap Occurs in Mansfield

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Twelve cars of an Erie Railroad freight train were derailed behind the Mansfield Tire & Rubber Co. plant here today. No one was injured.

The road's main line was closed for two hours and about 100 feet of track was ripped up.

Four of the cars held perishable fruit but none of the contents was spilled.

Railroad officials have not determined the cause of the derailment. Wrecking crews from Marion and Canton cleared one track by 11 a.m. The train was on a siding when the derailment occurred.

Erie officials said the train was bound from Marion to New England states. Carl. L. Spiggle of 1044 E. Church St., Marion, was conductor and Ivan W. Jordan of near Marion was engineer.

Overpower Guard, Take Hostage

3 Men, Woman Escape From Youngstown Jail

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Three men and a woman overpowered two guards and escaped from the Mahoning County jail early today. They took one jailer as a hostage, but released him unharmed seven miles away.

The quartet took at least two pistols and escaped in a car owned by one of the jailers. Another guard was locked in a cell after being smashed on the head. One of the escapees threatened to put a bullet through his heart.

Identifies Fugitives

Chief Jailer O. W. Heldman said the four were Robert Herman, 35, Joseph Orville, 23, and Donald Sweet, 24, all of Youngstown; and Mrs. Lola Gordon, of Toledo.

The two deputies overpowered were William Driskell and John Downey. Downey was locked in a cell. Driskell was jumped upon by one of the men as he alighted from an elevator, then taken outside to his car. The men stopped long enough to go up to the sixth floor to free Mrs. Gordon.

Found in Ditch

Driskell said the fugitives had difficulty starting the car and scraped the right fender as the auto left the jail garage.

Driskell was found halfway between Youngstown and Warren in a ditch at McKinley Heights. His feet were bound and he was handcuffed. He had on only his shirt and trousers in the sub-freezing weather. He said the four told

Trouble Still Plagues Alaska-Bound '59ers

SUMMIT LAKE, B.C. (AP) — More troubles are hitting Michigan's pioneering 59ers whose original schedule called for them to be in Alaska today.

The hardy band, which plans to settle as homesteaders on Alaska's Kenai Peninsula, was six days behind schedule but still plodding along.

The latest mishap occurred Sunday when a trailer-truck blew a piston.

Still, the modern-day pioneers continued 114 miles on to this waypoint along the Alcan Highway.

Asks States To Act

Ike Urges Broadening Of Jobless Pay Benefits

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower and a group of governors met today to explore ways to improve the federal-state jobless aid program.

The White House conference got under way at midmorning. Advance indications were that Eisenhower would tell the governors that unless state unemployment compensation laws are broadened, Congress may move in and enact compulsory federal standards.

The President's meeting was with the executive committee of the Governors Conference.

Also sitting in at the session were Secretary of the Treasury Robert B. Anderson, Secretary of Commerce Lewis L. Strauss, and Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell.

Others present, included Dr. Raymond Saulnier, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers. Wilton B. Persons, Eisenhower's chief aide; and Robert Merriam, another presidential assistant.

The arrangement was for the governors to confer with Eisenhower for about an hour, then continue the discussion with the other administration officials.

The state chief executives planned lunch at the White House with those officials. Indications were the conference would end in midafternoon.

MBS Bought By New York Businessmen

NEW YORK (AP)—A group of New York businessmen has purchased the Mutual Broadcasting System.

Mutual supplies 453 affiliated stations with news, sports and special features. It does not own them. Until recently it was part of the financial empire of international financier Alexander L. Guterma.

Malcolm E. Smith Jr., 42, president of Harrison Home Products, an importing firm, announced the purchase Sunday, but not the amount involved.

Richard H. Davimos, 36, of West Orange, N.J., a business associate of Smith, was the only other member of the purchasing group identified.

Davimos said Smith will become chairman of Mutual, and he will become president, with Robert F. Harleigh, Mutual's senior vice president, becoming vice chairman.

Smith, who lives in Smithtown, N.Y., and Davimos are associates in Harrison Home Products, the Grand Award Record Corp., of which Davimos is president; the Waldorf Record Corp. and Waldorf Music Hall, Inc.

Why Catholics Believe As They Do

People on the outside often wonder why Catholics keep "running" to church.

And many of them erroneously conclude that this devotion is prompted by fear rather than faith, and by a sense of obligation rather than a spirit of piety and zeal.

"Catholics," they have heard it said, "go to church because they are obligated to do so. The priests keep telling them it is a sin if they don't . . . that they risk eternal damnation if they don't obey the Church. Catholicism is a religion of fear."

It may be possible to "fool all of the people some of the time." But is it not unbelievable that literally billions of people could have been deceived over a period of nearly 2,000 years? Could Catholicism have held the loyalty of eminent philosophers, scientists and other intellectuals down through the centuries if all it offered was a doctrine of fear and superstition?

No, your Catholic neighbor does not go to Mass and Confession and participate in other religious devotions merely because of an obligation imposed by the Church. It is, he believes, an obligation imposed upon him by God: and it isn't fear, but the desire to serve God that prompts his religious life.

Religion to a Catholic is not merely a worthy and virtuous activity. It is an absolute duty. It is, we believe, the means provided by God for the fulfillment of the God-given purpose of our lives. It is the channel through which we acknowledge our utter dependence upon God, and by means of which we give expression to our love, faith and gratitude.

Catholics believe further that we must honor God in the way revealed through his true Son, Jesus Christ, Who commanded that we ". . . hear the Church." We believe that Christ established the Catholic Church and that it bears all the distinguishing marks which Christ said His Church would bear. We accept the teachings of the Catholic Church, therefore, because we believe that it is Christ's Church. It isn't fear or superstition that impels us to do this, but clear historical fact and our own reason and intelligence.

If you would like to know all about the basic Catholic beliefs . . . and the solid reasons behind them . . . write today for our free pamphlet. It will be sent in a plain wrapper and nobody will call on you. Nearly two million people have written in for pamphlets like this . . . and found enrichment for their spiritual lives. ZIPPORAH

"And Moses was content to dwell with the man and he gave Moses Zipporah his daughter."
—Exodus 2:21

When Moses was forced to flee from Egypt because he had killed a slave driver who was beating a Hebrew workman, he took refuge in Midian.

This was a country extending from the northeast shores of the Dead Sea, far into the Arabian peninsula.

Like any weary traveler, he paused at a well to rest and refresh himself with a cool drink. It was while he was there that he first met Zipporah.

She and her six sisters had brought their flocks to the well for their daily watering. But some rude shepherds who had arrived first, would not allow the girls to bring their sheep near the well.

Young Moses immediately came to the girls' rescue. He not only defied the shepherds, but he even helped the girls fill the troughs to water their flocks.

As he did so, he singled out Zipporah, whose voice —even in anger—had the sweet tone of a dove. After the painted faces of the Egyptian court, the simple beauty of her outdoor countenance refreshed him, like the cool water of the well.

Perhaps he thought to himself: here is this country's heart, the sweet life of contentment. Trust in God, for this child, is joy in the morning, and the distant tinkle of the ram's bell. God descends with the rain, and He is inhaled with the fragrant smell of the harvest.

And shyly averting her eyes from the stranger, no doubt Zipporah was moved to thoughts of her own.

Many men have done me good turns. But this one if different. There is kindness in him; but there is strength and terrible power, like the lightning behind clouds.

When the girls arrived home, their father asked: "How is it that ye are come so soon today?"

Then they told him of the kind Egyptian who had helped them at the well.

"Where is he?" said their father, a little annoyed that they had not shown hospitality to the kind stranger. "Call him that he may eat bread."

So Moses came to Zipporah's house. "And Moses was content to live with the man: and he gave Moses Zipporah his daughter."

Hope for Trapped Youth Fades as 3 Rescue Tries Fail

BUXTON, England (AP) — Three attempts to pull an unconscious college student from a cavern crevice 1,000 feet underground failed today. Rescue workers feared he was near death.

Three times members of a 70-man rescue team got a rope around the 20-year-old youth. Each time it snapped when they tried to yank him out of the funnel-shaped cleft where he was jammed 40 feet down.

Neil Moss of Oxford University was wedged in by his shoulders 40 feet down a funnel-shaped cleft some 18 inches wide in places. The cleft, about a mile and a half from the mouth of Peak Cavern, lies at the end of a 400-foot-long, two-foot-high corkscrew-shaped tunnel named the Devil's Hole.

Moss was trapped Sunday while exploring the cave with a party from the British Speleological Assn.

Traffic Deaths For Weekend Total 9 in State

2 Other-Type Mishaps Increase Fatality Toll In Ohio to at Laest 11

By The Associated Press

These first warm days of spring must be particularly sad for Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Ebinger.

The signs of fresh new life will soon be everywhere, terrible reminders that in their own household, in Bexley, the life of their infant son and only child has been suddenly stilled.

The boy, 6-month-old Elliott Charles Ebinger, strangled on a toy pencil while in his playpen. His death was among the earliest recorded in the Associated Press' weekend count of fatal accidents.

Between 6 p.m. Friday and Midnight Sunday, 10 others had died, bringing the total to 11. One of the victims was crushed to death in an industrial accident at Youngstown and the other nine died in traffic accidents.

The fatalities:

Saturday

Frederick C. Lancaster and Culver Smith, (ages unavilable) both of Cleveland, when their car crashed into the rear of a stalled truck in Cleveland.

Ernest Wallen, 65, Frenchburg, Ky., and his son, Clarence, 33, West Carrollton, when their car was struck by a tractor-trailer truck in West Carrollton (Montgomery County).

Father in Steubenville Sought for Beating Son

STEUBENVILLE, Ohio (AP)—A father charged with attempting to kill his five-year-old son was sought today by Jefferson County authorities.

Howard Max Muniz avoided arrest Sunday when he fled from his home in Yorkville clad only in his underwear, deputies said. His wife, Kathryn, accused him of beating their son, Howard Franklin, with a flashlight and slamming him against a wall.

Muniz was charged with assault with intent to kill.

The boy, who suffered internal injuries and multiple bruises, was in poor condition at Martins Ferry hospital.

When Yorkville police were summoned to the home, Munzi said the boy had fallen down stairs.

Charges were filed after Mrs. Muniz told of the beating. The father fled when deputies attempted to arrest him.

Will Pick Treasurer

BATAVIA, Ohio (AP)—Clermont County commissioners pick a new county treasurer today.

The appointee will succeed John P. Friend Jr., Democratic treasurer for 10 years who resigned last week after state examiners found his books short $48,747.

Friend's unexpired term extends to September, 1961.

Nepotism in Payrolls Matter Of Ethics, Congressman Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—An Ohio preacher-congressman says nepotism in congressional payrolls often is to be condemned.

But if the relative is competent and worth the salary, says Rep. Walter H. Moeller (D-Ohio), he sees nothing wrong with it.

"In fact," he says, "my daughter, Janeen—she's 20—may be wanting a job this summer. She is a sophomore at Valparaiso College (Ind.).

"I might hire her to work for me. But she would be paid the same as she would get for the same kind of work anywhere else."

Questions of ethics are things that Moeller has been answering for 22 years as a Lutheran minister in Lancaster, Ohio, Van Wert, Ohio, Silver Spring, Md., and Decatur, Ind.

Until last year, he felt that he would still be at the Emanuel Lutheran Church in Lancaster today. Then, suddenly, the Democrats asked him to run for Congress.

It was a long shot. The southern Ohio district had been represented for years by the dean of the Ohio Republican delegation here, Thomas A. Jenkins.

"I thought it was my civic duty to preserve the two-party system," Moeller recalls. "But I was surprised when I won and I was the first Democrat elected to that office there since the Civil War."

Now that he is here, Moeller already likes it well enough to serve two or three terms if the voters want him. Then he plans to return to the ministry.

Moeller says he finds that what he has learned in the ministry applies to a large degree to politics.

"You have to be tactful, careful and, most of all, honest," he says.

"I believe there are more honest politicians than people think. I would say a large majority of the men in politics with whom I have been associated are honest."

Theodora is the Greek word for "gift of God."

Leaves Hospital

CHARDON, Ohio (AP)—A Chardon Twp. trustee, critically wounded recently by the 12-year-old son of the Geauga County sheriff, was released from Lakeside Hospital in Cleveland Sunday. Lynn H. Hosford Sr., 63, was shot in the stomach and right arm when he argued with the boy, Michael Robusky, at the Hosford residence. Hosford threatened to call Michael's father Sheriff Louis A. Robusky, moments before the shooting.

INFLATION....

Here's where inflation really hurts you

You really feel inflation when you get to the check-out counter. That is when the dollars you have in your pocket seem to vanish fast.

Some people think they benefit from a little inflation—for a while.

The awakening comes when they find they are paying more and more for less and less—that more dollars are needed for the things that cost fewer dollars a while back.

That's inflation.

Inflation is caused by a lot of things. But one of the most important is rising labor costs without a substantial increase in the nation's productive efficiency. The reason: 75 percent or more of the final cost of what you buy goes for labor.

It's kind of a chain reaction. With each round of wage and price increases, your dollars lose another chunk of purchasing power.

If things keep on this way another twenty years—or ten—or five, what will you get for your dollar? What will happen to your savings, your insurance, your pension plans . . . your children's education?

Isn't it time to stop this spiral that eventually robs you of your future security?

The American Iron and Steel Institute brings you this message from the steel industry because

Inflation robs us all

Pair of Nebraska Teen-Agers Faces Kidnaping Charge

SALINA, Kan. (AP) — Two 16-year-old girls who broke out of a Nebraska industrial school and forced a farmer to drive them on their flight will be charged with kidnaping.

Peggy Ann Moore of Omaha and Janet Spegel of Lexington, Neb., are being held here for a federal officer to return them to Nebraska. The FBI said Sunday kidnaping charges will be filed against them.

The girls were captured at a roadblock here a few hours after they escaped Saturday night.

"It was quite an experience," said the girls' victim, Jesse Richards, 54, after he returned to his farm near Geneva, Neb.

Peggy and Janet, armed with two butcher knives and a .22 caliber pistol, commandeered Richards' car and forced the 6-foot, 200-pound farmer to drive them.

"They had a knife at my throat and a gun leveled at my back," Richards said. "I wasn't scared first, but I got scared before we stopped."

The girls were committed to the industrial school as delinquents.

The girls said they planned to go to Waco, Tex., because an Air Force base is near that city.

"I hear some of those Air Force boys are real crazy," said Peggy.

Mississippi Plantation Fire Kills 6 Children

GREENVILLE, Miss. (AP) — Six children 5 weeks to 11 years old, burned to death Saturday night in a fire that swept through their planatation cabin.

Beatrice McGee, their mother, told deputies she was at nearby Winterville on an errand when the fire started, apparently after the children tried to build a fire in a wood stove with a can of kerosene. Two other children were away.

The three-room cabin on the K. L. Young plantation, six miles east of here, was destroyed.

'The Kingdom Under the Sea' Good Novel by French Writer

BY W. G. ROGERS
Associated Press Book Critic

THE KINGDOM UNDER THE SEA. By Henry Queffelec. Translated from French by Len Ortzen. Pantheon. $3.50.

Congers, rayfish, cod, turbot, dogfish—these are the denizens of the kingdom over which skipper Jean Modenou dreams of ruling as he and his small, hardy crew set out in their fishing vessel the Gamineur.

Douarnenez in Brittany is their home port, from which they are gone 10 days at a time. They have been having only average luck, perhaps three tons a trip, or just enough to cover costs. The men prepare their long lines, bait their hooks, let them float down over a vast crawling ocean bed, and in a couple of hours haul in.

But on the trip during which this novel opens, Jean hits at last on a happy underwater hunting ground. Just as he had begun to despair, and above all to think of having to tell Madeleine the same familiar tale again, the hooks settle into a fresh unexploited bank, and he loads four times the normal catch. He pledges his crew to conceal the location of their rich find, and they sail back into port triumphantly.

But for Jean and his wife, the success is marred by a matter of relativity. Does he love her, she worries, or is the life of the fisherman uppermost in his heart as in his thoughts? Does he withhold professional secrets so that she is, as she jealously views it, only in part a wife? It is to probe his attitude, or to end her own deep unrest, that she becomes involved with Goaster, one of the least of his crewmen, and there follows a double betrayal that threatens their peace and happiness.

These are two forceful individuals, each with his own worthy values and goals, and their problem is to preserve what they already have singly along with what they want to have together. Queffelec makes a gripping narrative out of them, but he does more, for there is always the insistent, intruding wash of the sea. Man-and-woman troubles are familiar, but ocean is fresher ground. Queffelec stirs you with Jean's apostrophes to the fish, you tumble about in heavy weather with the other crewmen, you share their menial labor, you exult with them as they toast the great catch. Queffelec has been compared to Melville and Conrad; he is much closer to his poetic countryman Pierre Loti.

Miss Eileen Azaroff's fifth grade has just completed a study of the United States. Several committees reported on their projects as a culminating activity. One committee produced a puppet show on Alaska describing the 49th state.

Paul Sisson was chairman. Another group under the chairmanship of Linda Fleming composed original lyrics to a popular tune telling about the Middle Atlantic states. Bonnie Worley was chairman of a committee that wrote an original skit telling about the central states. Characters used cardboard cutouts of the different states for costumes when the skit was presented to the class. Reports on other sections of the United States also were given.

Two years ago the fourth grade of Mrs. Evalona Glasener sent Red Cross gift boxes to the Junior Red Cross. These boxes then were forwarded to Hebron School in Labrador, from which letters of thanks have been received.

The remote school is operated by Moravian missionaries and is reached by dog sled in winter and by boat and float plane in summer. The packages were dropped by parachute to the school.

Letters have been received from the director of the school, Miss Kate Hettasch, and from several Eskimo children. These notes described the school and village life.

—Mark St.—

Mark St. School has received an album from the Koshi Elementary School in Izumo, Schimane Prefect, Japan. This album contains many pictures of school activities and the Japanese way of life.

Boys and girls are enjoying the intricate Japanese art work made by children of their own age group. This album is a gift returned through the Junior Red Cross for an album prepared last year by the students at Mark St. entitled "Life in an American School."

Aside from the Red Cross translation of two letters written in Japanese, there are many explanations written in the foreign tongue which students hope to have translated, making the album more interesting.

The boys and girls in Mrs. Dorothy Klehm's fifth grade have made salt and flour relief maps of Ohio. Following a study of the different kinds of soils found in the state these were painted a different color for each region. Ohio rivers were located, identified by name, and painted blue.

—George Washington—

As a result of an assembly on Alaska, the students in Mrs. Nancy Mumper's sixth grade at George Washington have made individual totem poles. The class is working on a large totem pole as a group art project.

Mrs. Estella Lloyd's sixth graders are doing basic chemistry experiments. They are combining egg yolk and a silver spoon to illustrate the combination of the elements of silver and sulphur. Moistened steel wool illustrates the oxidation of iron. Other basic chemistry experiments are tested and the results are written up in reports.

Miss Wanda McMahan's sixth graders are responsible for the bulletin board in the second floor hall. They have a shamrock tree to commemorate St. Patrick's Day and an "Easter Egg Tree" for the holiday.

Plans are being made for the annual sixth grade "Class Day" to be held in May.

—Oak St.—

Mrs. Helen Liebert's sixth grade at Oak St. has been comparing Russia to the United States in terms of size, population, education, system, government, and customs as a part of their social studies. Students are making a mural depicting life in a Russian city. Individual projects will consist of dressing dolls in native costumes, construction of models of farm machinery and modes of transportation, and salt maps of the country.

Mrs. Bernice Thompson's fifth grade has been making Easter favors as a Junior Red Cross project. The favors consist of a nut cup filled with colored cellophane grass and a crepe paper lid. Mounted on the lid is a marshmallow bunny.

Miss Marie Johnson's second grade has been dramatizing Easter playlets. The first play was "The Little Rabbit Who Wanted Red Wings." Puppets were constructed of socks and used for these characters: porcupines, ground-hogs, squirrels and ducks. An original Easter play, "Mother's Little Helper," written by Nancy Fields, a member of the class, also was dramatized.

The opaque projector purchased by the PTA arrived last week. Each class is having a demonstration lesson using the new projector.

—Oakland—

Mrs. Marcella Emmons' second grade at Oakland has made Easter corsages of pictures and colored paper which reveal some aspect of the season.

Mrs. Mary Orcutt's third grade has made gaily colored kites. The spring bulletin board portrays all phases of the season.

Mrs. Sarah Jones' second grade has selected their favorite story from their first semester reader. The boys and girls have written a short description of the story and illustrated it with pictures.

Miss Helen Evans' first grade has pussy willow trees made of paper with kitten faces on them. The children also have written stories to go with the pictures.

Mrs. Dorothy Smith's first graders have planted many different kinds of seeds and are watching them grow. They have made paper-looped bunnies which decorate the room for the Easter season.

Miss Jane Tumbleson's second grade had a live rabbit in their room last week.

Mrs. Judy Daum's first grade has made Easter baskets and string puppets.

—Olney Ave.—

All classes at Olney participated in an art exhibit for the March meeting of the PTA. Each class displayed art work from each child. The central theme was Easter and the traditional Easter bunny with his gay basket of eggs was in evidence everywhere. The older children used the religious theme to depict their feelings about Easter

Other pieces of art were presented as it correlated with various subject areas. Various media were utilized including crayons, papier mache, clay paints, cut paper, sea shells, egg shells, and Easter grass. The windows of each room were decorated in keeping with the coming of spring and the Easter season.

At the completion of a unit in social studies, the children in Mrs. Grace Shumaker's fourth grade chose committees for various forms of review. One group gave written reports, another group drew pictures and a third group wrote a short play and presented it to the other members of the class.

Mrs. Maryalice Lyon's third grade has made an egg tree and each child has painted several shells to hang on the branches of the tree. These children also are working on a study of sea life. Pictures have been made of the blue-crab, the seahorse, the starfish, the clam and the lobster.

Miss Ruth Cantrell, a third grade teacher from Ridgeway, visited the third and fourth grades last Monday.

—Vernon—

Miss Janet Geddis' second grade pupils at Vernon have been busy in art classes preparing for the Easter season. They made rabbits out of white tissue paper that looked like real fur. Their Easter tree is covered with eggs they have colored. Students also have made Easter bunny baskets of construction paper which they took home.

Vernon Fun Night will be on Friday, April 24. This is an annual affair sponsored by the Vernon PTA. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Peters and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Galloway are co-chairmen of this event.

The students in Mrs. Dorothy Key's second grade are working on a farm unit. They have made three-dimensional figures of farm animals and farm buildings. They are learning songs and poems about the farm. Friday afternoon they saw a film strip entitled "Farm Animals." As a follow-up to these experiences, they will write and tell stories about the farm.

The bulletin board in Miss Ruby Williams' fifth grade room contains a display of items depicting all things associated with the month of March. There is a figure of the March wind blowing, a kite, an Easter bunny and other symbols of the Easter season. There also is a life-like figure of the March lamb made of cotton balls, and the March lion, made of brown construction paper.

—Glenwood—

Miss Marlene Graham's third graders at Glenwood have made "Humpty Dumpty" from empty egg shells. They planted wheat inside the egg shells and when it grows, Humpty Dumpty will have green hair. For Easter, students made backward bunnies. They were patterned from different kinds of cloth and finished with a cotton tail.

Dianna Browning brought the first batch of frog eggs to school last Thursday. She is a fourth grader. The class expects to watch the growth of the eggs to adult frogs.

Many of the boys and girls have started to use the city library regularly since their trip there last Wednesday. The fourth grade taught by Mrs. Jean Maloney is finishing a study on New York and Brenda Breeding, who got her first library card last Wednesday, found a book about the Empire State Building. This proved to be very helpful in the study.

The boys and girls in Mrs. Betty Leffler's class are making a scrapbook from newspaper clippings concerning "Children of the Bible."

The sixth grade taught by Mrs. John Nichols has just finished a unit in social studies about coal. Students now will start a unit on rubber, making a list of rubber articles which they and members of their families use. The bulltin board will feature pictures of articles made from rubber. Some of the topics to be covered are: history of rubber; how crude rubber is grown and prepared for market; use of rubber in transportation; development and use of American made rubber, and use of rubber in industry, medicine, aviation, on the farm, and in the home.

Inventors are being studied in Mrs. Louise Elsasser's fifth grade. This is a project originating from both social studies and reading. After the story has been read, reference books are used to gain more information about the inventor. Then students attempt to get a picture of each inventor.

The same class is studying the three branches of government and their functions. Students will get a list of all candidates running for election this year and the section of the state from which they come.

Miss Carolyn Hoch's sixth graders are adding another section to their social studies notebook. It will contain geographical terms and the meanings of each term.

—Pearl St.—

Second graders at Pearl St. have been studying about birds. They have written stories about them and made booklets. Youngsters have learned to recognize them by their different characteristics. Different type nests, movies, and film strips were used in the study.

Miss Irene Epler's sixth grade students have completed their booklets on individual countries.

Miss Mary Ullmann's fourth grade has been making Easter hats from materials such as construction paper, crepe paper, yarn, ribbon and cloth. The children modeled their hats before vacation.

Mrs. Myra Sanders' third grade has made a frieze on brown paper. The picture illustrated "Go To Church on Easter." Members of the class brought their paper dolls or cut out people from magazines. These were pasted on the frieze showing the people going into a church.

In connection with the study of Java in Indonesia, Miss Margaret Topliff's sixth grade is doing some Javanese designs and "batik" work. Through reading and information obtained from Miss Edith Keeler, elementary art supervisor, the class has been able to find out how the batik work is produced. After the design is made, it is transferred to either cotton or silk material. Hot wax, made of beeswax and paraffin, is applied to the design and the cloth then is dyed. A second application of wax and a second dying is necessary before the wax is removed and the batik work is finished.

The class is gaining a better idea of the tedious work performed by these East Indian Island people in producing their beautiful cloth.

Serves as Director of Pupil Personnel

Whisler Liaison Man Between Home and School

This is the fifth in a series concerning the duties of administrative staff members in the Marion public school system.

By JUNE ROSEBERRY

As a liaison between the home and school, the director of pupil personnel has one of the most varied administrative positions in the city's public school system.

The man behind the job, Joseph G. Whisler, performs a host of services.

"My duties are concerned with the needs of all school children, the prevention of student problems and solving them as expediently as possible, if they do arise," he says.

In the course of a day's work, he makes several home calls. A six-week report just submitted to the superintendent of schools indicated that 383 such visits were made during the fourth grading period of the school year, recently completed.

WHY ARE THESE home calls necessary?

Many of them are just routine. If a student shows many absences in school attendance, the case is explored to discover the reason.

In this sense, the director of pupil personnel might be termed a truant officer.

Serious problems concerning invalid absences do not frequently occur, but if they do, the school system has the right to instigate juvenile court action against the offender, he pointed out.

At the beginning of the school year, Mr. Whisler often is confronted with as many as 200 names of students who fail to appear for opening sessions. This frequently means they have moved to other communities without notifying the school, but in each case this fact must be verified. After tracking down the necessary information, he forwards student records to the new school system where the student is enrolled.

Much of his other contact with the home centers around work permits, tuition payments or leaving school before graduation.

Mr. Whisler said work permits must be signed by parents, indicating their approval for the student to be employed part-time once he becomes 14. These permits are handled through the school system primarily because they affect students.

If a student leaves school at the age of 16 he must win the approval of the school administration and comply with several requirements. Mr. Whisler handles this work, too.

Accounting for tuition students and investigating the reason for attendance on such a basis is another of his duties.

A recent count showed that 75 students who live outside the school district are attending Marion schools. This classifies them as tuition students.

Several in this group reside in Marion Township where there is no school building. In other cases, parents may choose to send youngsters to city public schools because of a special program being offered.

—:—

AS AN INVESTIGATOR of pupil problems, Mr. Whisler also checks on students' clothing needs. In cases where parents are unable to clothe their children, the children are referred to the PTA Clothing Center for the necessary items.

He administers the program of special classes with the assistance of the coordinator of child study and guidance. These classes include slow learners, sight saving and crippled children groups as well as students on home instruction.

When he is not engrossed in problems between the school and home, Mr. Whisler usually is occupied with a research project. Right now he is coordinating the city census of children between the ages of one day and 18 years.

During the last two weeks he has met with volunteers from every elementary PTA group who will carry out the door-to-door enumeration by April. 31. The workers number about 210.

Mr. Whisler organized plans for the survey, dividing the city into 10 elementary districts to make better geographical lines for purposes of home contact.

Other preparation for the census including sending questionnaires to 35 representative school systems throughout Ohio to ascertain how they conducted projects of this type.

Results of the survey will be used to project enrollments in the public school system for the next 10 years and also to estimate more accurately what the student population next year will be by grade.

This is necessary not only for the annual enumeration report to the county auditor late in May, but to plan the number of teachers needed next year, facilities and supplies.

Mr. Whisler also is responsible for maintaining a complete set of records for all pupils. Just two years ago he revised the list of information to be included in each student's folder.

It now covers achievement test and mental ability test results, attendance records, teacher comments and grades earned each year, among other things.

PROBLEM GETS PERSONAL ATTENTION. Joseph G. Whisler, director of pupil personnel for the Marion public schools, handles a host of problems concerning students. He frequently makes home visits or establishes contact with the family by telephone. His office is responsible for keeping records of every student in the school system. He also conducts research projects and enrollment surveys.

Career Days Set After Vacation for Junior Highs Here

Cecil W. Gabler, assistant to the superintendent of Marion public schools, will be the keynote speaker for the annual junior high school Career Days to be held the week following spring vacation, school officials announced today.

Eighth and ninth grade students will participate in the afternoon sessions at these buildings on the following dates: Taft, Tuesday, March 31; Baker, Wednesday, April 1, and Edison, Friday, April 3.

Following the general program, students will attend two special sessions for the rest of the afternoon.

Ninth graders will choose discussion groups on any two of these general vocational areas: merchandising, commercial, mechanical, scientific, public service and professional.

The speakers for these various areas will be Thomas Sheskey, Russell Dunlap, Emil J. Lisak, Donald Tarvin, Eugene White, Mrs. Ruth Myers and John Sweeney.

Eighth graders will have only one discussion group, being divided according to college and non-college interest. Miss Helen May will address the college section and Ray Silver the non-college group.

During the second period eighth grade stuents will join together to view a guidance film entitled "The Quarterback."

Members of the faculty committee planning the Career Day programs are Miss Carolyn Ulsh, Max Sechrist, Richard Rees and Howard Quinn.

Spendocrat Is Where You Find Him

The state of Michigan is taking unusual steps to correct what its governor calls a "totally unfair and one-sided picture" of its financial situation.

It has sent to newspapers a forthright explanation of its troubles, and the explanation throws a good deal of light on the troubles.

Michigan wants it officially known the troubles are not to be blamed wholly on the administration of Gov. G. Mennen Williams, if at all.

"MICHIGAN'S CURRENT financial problems," says the official statement, "are the result of 12 years of refusal on the part of the state legislature to raise taxes adequate to meet appropriations and other commitments. During this entire period the legislature has been dominated by Republicans in both houses."

The explanation goes on to say that state government in Michigan must give five-sixths of its sales tax revenue to schools, cities and townships and this is why its state government is broke and needs new taxes.

Gov. Williams and his Republican predecessor, Kim Sigler, both have warned Michigan legislators they must increase tax revenues to maintain the services they have agreed to support. But the legislators have been reluctant to break the bad news to taxpayers, because it has not been fashionable in politics in recent years to break bad news to taxpayers. The truth is that it hasn't been safe, either. People who have been conned into believing what they get from the state capital and from Washington is free are in no mood to feel friendly about bill collectors.

This is the problem. It is not partisan. A Spendocrat is where you find him, in either political party, or in no political party at all.

There are more Democratic Spendocrats than Republican Spendocrats, however, because there are more Democrats in office and many of them got there by promising to give away more than their opponent promised to give away. Moreover, the modern Democratic party gained its momentum under Franklin D. Roosevelt, the great pump-primer, and most of its spokesmen are still relying on the creed of "Go ahead and spend it. We'll add it to the debt, which is nothing but money we owe ourselves."

But there are Republican Spendocrats, too. It is not a partisan matter.

It is, rather, a state of mind that makes it seem logical and even farsighted to keep the taxing hand from knowing what the spending hand is doing—to make it appear that there is no connection between one and the other. And what is happening currently is that the sleepwalkers are being jarred awake by unpleasant realities like unpaid bills, reluctance to buy public bonds and bare cash drawers.

There is no way under the sun to wriggle out of commitments already made; spending cannot be turned off like a water faucet.

THE ALTERNATIVE is to make legislators bite the bullet and raise taxes to pay for what they have voted to spend. It is not popular, however, for them to break the bad news to people who thought the money was free if it came from Washington, Lansing, or perhaps Columbus, if they lived in Ohio.

Money is never free. Someone must pay for it one way or another, either in taxes or inflation or both. That is the rude awakening of 1959. Michigan, where things got further out of hand than they did in some places, has a worse hangover, that's all.

That is why Michigan has been pointed to as a horrible example. But everybody else was on a binge, too—Washington most of all.

Mr. Truman Makes His Point

In turning down the Boston Globe's invitation to prove for a day that he knows more about editing a newspaper than the people who do it professionally, Harry Truman made the point that editors "know all about how another man's business ought to be run, while I do not pretend to know the mechanics of yours."

Ouch! It's a sharp point.

The invitation grew out of the former president's harsh criticism of newspaper editors at the University of Missouri School of Journalism recently. He accused them, as he had accused them before, of being unfair to public officials and said he wishes he could be a newspaper editor for a while.

This is a fairly common reaction among public officials who have been piqued by newspapers, and it produced a fairly common reaction among newspaper editors. They, too, wish Harry Truman could be an editor for a while so he could learn what it feels like to decide minute by minute the relative importance of what public officials are doing and saying.

The officials always want full reports of their triumphs and the statements they are proud of, or from which they expect to gain advantage. But they never want full coverage of their bloopers and muffs.

They are fond of praise and they despise criticism. They love to be held up for public acclaim, but they loathe being lost in the shuffle of news that they consider to be unworthy of their association with it.

They are quick to claim they were misquoted if something they have said backfires. They are quick to claim they were ignored when they were not on Page One, if that is where they wanted to be. They are just as quick to claim they were persecuted if they made Page One when they did not want to be there.

This is the way it is and must always be between the men who conduct the public business and the newspapers that report what they are doing. But because it is the public business, the job must be done, along with all the other things that newspapers report. They do not expect politicians to love them, though some politicians do not spend quite so much time badmouthing them as Harry Truman makes a practice of doing.

Picture of J. Hoffa

There is a fascinating squabble in San Francisco about who should make the Girl Scout cookies that go on sale out there next month.

The Bakery Drivers Local 484 of the Teamsters Union says it will hold up its contribution to the United Crusade unless the cookies are made in San Francisco. This is what is known as Teamster pressure on Girl Scouts. Their cookies now come from faraway places, such as National Sales and Service Co. in Tulsa, Okla., which appears to be getting its supplies from Lowell, Mass.

This in itself is not without fascination, but that is not what is turning out to be fascinating.

We always had admired the Girl Scouts as we munched the cookies that bring the organization a sizeable sum of good-will income. We had asked its charming salesmen on occasion for the recipe of their excellent cookies and when no information was forthcoming had concluded it was a secret like the formula for Coca Cola.

But always we had the vision of earnest little girls beating batter, forming it into cookies, popping them into the oven and packaging the yummy result for house-to-house distribution. It made helping the Girl Scouts more pleasant than it would have been to help them with no vision.

Understand, we knew better, because little girls these days do not know how to make cookies in the first place. It was just a kind of dream we had. And it was more fun than to think of getting a picture of J. Hoffa with each package of Girl Scout cookies, like the customers in San Francisco.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

There are so many weather forecasts on airwaves that you can get a choice of weather by merely tuning out of one into another. Glamor gals are forecasting on TV. They get the nod over male prophets because if a cute doll is predicting a blizzard it seems less terrorizing. You can concentrate on her big blue eyes all through her stuff about bad weather. Her hairdo can take your mind off the zero situation in Oswego.

A man forecaster, warning of a temperature drop with snow, can depress us deeply. But a pretty girl's forecast of the dirtiest weather can be lost in considerations of her warm smile.

The missus is less easily impressed. There is one young woman weather expert whose clothes never please her. "What was the forecast?" we ask and the wife replies, "I dunno. She's just given it but all I noticed was that she looks awful in tonight's blouse."

She favors male forecasters but not the current crop. It is her idea the job calls for Pat Boone, John Wayne or Burt Lancaster. The moppets think that if the TV screens bother with weather they should get their rain or snow from Hugh O'Brian or Hopalong Cassidy.

AIRWAVE FORECASTERS of the moment deserve credit for at least making it easier to get a wide selection of weather. If one fellow is predicting a foot of snow you can always tune into some station and find a forecaster who sees only a couple of inches.

Caught in a station which chills with a prophecy of a drop below zero you can fool around until you find some prophet with a more agreeable disposition who will give you nothing worse than a temperature in the 30s.

It is never necessary to be stuck with bad weather on TV. Not if the dials are all working.

Significant News

By David Lawrence

If you're one of the "spenders" in Congress and you ridicule the idea of a balanced budget, you get plenty of attention. But if you're a "saver" and want to keep the American dollar from being forced down to a value of 10 cents, then you're old-fashioned and not in tune with the times.

Lawrence

Sen. Harry Byrd of Virginia happens to be chairman of the Senate Finance Committee. He also happens to be a member of the Democratic party, so many of whose members are trying to make a virtue of bigger and bigger spending by government. Yet, when he spoke Tuesday night at the National Taxpayers Conference in Washington. His words got scant attention.

"Contrary to general understanding," Sen. Byrd said, "recent great increases in federal spending have not been for defense or foreign aid. The tremendous increases have been for domestic - civilian programs."

This alone seems to be a worthwhile piece of news. For, in the speeches emanating from Capitol Hill, President Eisenhower is repeatedly being accused of trying to balance the budget at the expense of national defense in the battle against the Communists.

-:-

THE PURPOSE of the crusade for more spending is, of course, to break the faith of the public in budget-balancing by using defense as an excuse, so that all sorts of subsidies and grants can be made in the guise of social reform.

The Virginia Senator says: "Since 1954 expenditures outside of defense, atomic energy, and foreign aid categories increased from $19,100,000,000 to 34 billion estimated in the current year.

"This is an increase of $14,900,000,000, or 78 per cent. There is terrific pressure in the current session of Congress for enactment of more non - essential spending programs. Almost invariably these new spending programs involve multi-year or permanent commitments for heavy spending in the future.

"Much of the domestic - civilian spending is for subsidies — and by subsidies I mean nearly all kinds of loans, grants and payments out of the federal treasury to special beneficiaries. Many of these subsidy programs are bottomless pits for federal spending and contribute to sky-high inflation.

"The federal government of the United States cannot now pay its bills except by increasing debt and inflation. Revenue at present tax rates does not meet our commitments.

"INTEREST on the federal debt is taking approximately one-tenth of all taxes collected.

"Chronic inflation has reduced the purchasing power of our money 52 per cent. The American dollar is now worth 48 cents by the 1939 index.

"Inflation destroys fixed incomes, provident investment, prudent business, sound financing, national security and democratic government.

"More than 20 years of destructive inflation in this country to date have led to continual demands for increased federal subsidization.

"The federal government is now subsidizing business, industry, private finance, agriculture, transportation, power, health, education, states, localities, individuals, etc.

"By the process of cheapening our money and centralizing power in the federal government, we have descended to a level of state socialism which is obvious, if not admitted.

"Social democracy is a subterfuge for sound government and constructive enterprise. Its evils are historically documented wherever nations have stooped to it...

"When governments become insolvent, their money becomes worthless and they go through a revolution wringer.

THE NATURE and process of the revolutions may vary but invariably the form of government is changed. There is no reason to think free enterprise democracy as we have known it could survive."

Sen. Byrd said that he concedes the necessity for deficits in extreme emergencies but that in its first 150 years America met its emergencies and then promptly restored sound financing, balanced the budget and began paying off debt.

He points out that nearly 40 million persons are getting direct payments from the federal treasury this year and that, with their families, this could reach a number equal to half the population of the United States.

He appeals to his colleagues in Congress to stop the spending. He says that "cynics advocate more inflation to produce more revenue but it increases the cost of everything the government buys."

The Virginia senator adds: "The situation will continue to grow worse unless there is drastic action in the immediate future."

This plea by the chairman of the Senate Finance Committee — who, though a Democrat, supports the President's efforts to balance the budget — is significant news.

Victory for Khrushchev

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower is headed toward a summit conference he didn't seek, under circumstances he didn't want, and on problems not yet agreed upon.

All this adds up to a kind of victory for Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev who has wanted a summit meeting for more than a year and now has practically forced it on the West. But who will be the ultimate winner—if any —remains to be seen.

News coming out of Eisenhower's weekend of meetings with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan has been understandably thin. The two men would hardly want to give the Soviets a full transcript of their conversations.

BUT OF THE several bits of information provided by their aides, this much was dominant: the President and prime minister had agreed on their approach to a summit meeting next summer, following a foreign ministers conference in May.

Back in late 1957, with the then premier Nikolai Bulganin doing the writing for him, Khrushchev had called for a summit get-together. He found both Eisenhower and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles chilly to the idea.

After quite a bit of letter writing back and forth, the idea blew up. Then last Nov. 27 Khrushchev took a step which disturbed the Allies no end, forced them into action, and gave him a fresh excuse to call for a summit conference.

KHRUSHCHEV demanded that the United States, Britain and France get their occupation troops out of West Berlin. He threatened to sign a separate peace treaty with Communist East Germany.

This had a real hooker in it: if the Allies kept their troops in Berlin and tried—against the will of the German Communists—to send supplies to their Berlin garrisons through East Germany there could be war.

Khrushchev gave the Allies six months to get moving although now he says in effect it wasn't a hard and fast deadline but just a date he picked off the ceiling. What he wanted most was action, he said.

HE KEPT CALLING for a summit conference to talk about the Allied troops in West Berlin and a peace treaty for Germany. The West's response was this: let's have a foreign ministers meeting to talk things over.

Eisenhower—ever since the 1955 summit meeting's high pronouncements ended in smoke—has insisted on no more summit meetings unless first the foreign ministers meet and show enough progress and agreement to make a summit conference look worthwhile.

Khrushchev has consistently laughed off a foreign ministers meeting as a preliminary since he regards the ministers as mere errand boys for the heavyweights like himself and Eisenhower.

With the showdown on Berlin getting closer Macmillan went to talk with Khrushchev. He reportedly came away with the idea that a summit meeting was the thing to have. He apparently sold the idea to Eisenhower.

WHEN THE Eisenhower-Macmillan aides said over the weekend their bosses had agreed to propose a summit meeting next summer, they gave the impression that results from a foreign ministers meeting first were not as necessary as before.

But while Khrushchev seems to want to limit summit discussions to West Berlin and a German peace treaty, the Western Allies appear to want much broader discussions. The two sides haven't agreed yet on what they should talk about.

In the end the whole idea of a summit conference may break down over a discussion on what the summiteers should discuss. At the moment a summit conference looks more likely than not.

Except for a few details that are unaccounted for, the lambing that began a month ago is all over for another year.

The missing details are embarrassing.

They are an indeterminate number of potential mothers. It always happens this way.

The slip of paper on which tally is kept sooner or later is lost or neglected. This year it was neglected.

Somewhere between the barn door and the back door a distraction occurred that caused several birthings not to be registered. In one tally, the number of births relative to mothers is registered. That shows how many births are still to be expected. In another tally, the number of births relative to lambs is registered — single, double etc. That shows how many lambs have arrived.

But when the lambs were actually counted, there were more than the tally total, despite the fact one had died and one was put out for adoption. And the lamb tally and the mother tally were hopelessly out of gear. So it's highly indeterminate; but in all probability there will be no more tension from now on.

Tension? Over a lamb?

Well, the temperature is on zero. A new lamb is born in a cold barn. Or the temperature is 15 above zero, the wind is blowing a gale and there's a brand-new set of twins. Or when you get home at dusk a mother is standing over a new lamb on a hillside, and it will be dark in another five minutes.

You bear down. You feel challenged. You do things with towels and heat lamps you would not have believed possible before you did them the first time.

In pinches, you do things with warm milk and baby bottles you didn't expect to do again, too. You find yourself talking like an old counselor to mothers that know what they are doing and gritting unspeakable insults to crazy females that never were fit to be mothers in the first place and in the second place you'd like to kill 'em in their tracks. If they weren't so dumb in the first place they wouldn't know why you were mad in the second place.

But finally it tapers off and almost all the lambs have been born again. You look at the little devils asleep in daisy chains along the wall, on their mothers' backs and alongside tufts of grass in the meadow and you feel good about it.

You watch them race and leap, get panicky when their mothers wander off and forget them temporarily, eat their innocent heads off and grow like thistles and you suspect there may be other things people do that aren't any more fun than being a weekend sheepherder.

Your back is aching, the sheep smell will be in your clothes forever, you feel bad about the lambs you lost and you worry about the dopey ones that do not come up to standard — but for a month there were no dull moments.

You always knew what you were going to do next, if you could spare the time. You were going to make a stab at straightening out the chaos in the sheepfold, where suddenly the census had gone up more than 100 per cent. Last year it went up 200 per cent — nothing but twins — but that was once in a lifetime.

Anything over 100 per cent is good enough to mention with pride.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a married man with two sons in high school. A young girl who works in my office threw herself at me. She was shapely and persistent. I don't have to tell you that sometimes the flesh can be weak.

Yesterday the girl told me she is pregnant. The dumb bunny gave me the news in my office within earshot of my secretary. (I'm not at all sure the secretary didn't hear the sobbing.)

I love my wife and family and would rather die than hurt them. I firmly believe the girl let this happen because she thought it would force my hand. She's a frustrated actress who likes to dramatize everything. I offered her money to leave town but she wouldn't accept it.

Don't give me a Sunday sermon. I can get that in church. I need some down-to-earth advice on how to get rid of this dangerous troublemaker. Of course I can't discuss this with anyone I know and I can't receive mail on this matter. So please reply in the paper. — SLEEPLESS NITES.

Dear Sleepless: She wasn't a "dangerous troublemaker" until she got mixed up with you. No girl can make this kind of trouble by herself.

If it's down - to - earth advice you want, you'd better come down - to - earth (where the lawyers are). First tell your wife the whole ugly story. If she stands by you, you're luckier than you deserve.

Offer to pay the girl's medical expenses and see that she gets the best care. She'll have to quit work in a few months, which may mean an additional financial burden on you.

If she wishes to keep the baby you must pay support until the child is of legal age. Face up to the fact that this girl and her out-of-wedlock child will probably be around for a long time. Pretty big price to pay for "weak flesh," isn't it, Dad?

Pretty, Unpalatable

Dear Ann Landers: I loved the letter about the woman who wrapped her garbage in fancy paper and tied it with a ribbon. It reminded me of the experience of a close friend.

My friend, Mrs. X, was a perfectionist who carried neatness to unbelievable extremes. She, too, wrapped her garbage so beautifully it looked like a bride's gift. She also took pride in preparing attractive and appetizing lunches for her husband.

One day her husband dashed out the door for work and grabbed "his lunch" off the kitchen table. That noon, in the presence of his fellow employes, he opened the package to find coffee grounds, potato peels, egg shells and a rotten orange. The garbage man got the lunch and hubby got the garbage! —E.F.P.

'Second-Hand' Ring

Dear Ann: I've been going with a swell fellow for 18 months. Henry (I'll call him that) was engaged to a girl who ran around behind his back. He finally asked her to return his ring.

This is the problem, Ann, although my mother says I am childish and insists there IS no problem. Henry wants to give me the same ring. I feel funny accepting a ring that was bought for another girl. We've touched on the subject lightly but Henry just brushes it aside as a "little girl whim" that I'll get over.

Shall I come right out and tell him exactly how I feel? Please help me decide.—SENTIMENTALIST.

-:-

Dear Sentimentalist: Henry (I'll call him that, too) won't be wearing the ring and neither will your mother.

For a modest sum the stone can be reset. In a different mounting it will look like a brand new ring. No girl should have to wear an engagement ring that reminds her of her fiance's former sweetheart.

Confidentially

To LARK-HAPPY NOW: You aren't happy — you're anesthetized. Those pills don't take your troubles away. They take YOU away, temporarily. See a doctor.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Marion Star, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Electric Firm, IBEW Recess Columbus Talk

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Talks between the Columbus & Southern Ohio Electric Co. and the striking International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers remained recessed as the strike moved into its fourth week.

Federal Mediator H. J. Montoney said Sunday negotiations are at a "complete impasse."

About 1,300 IBEW members have been on strike against the utility since Feb. 28. The question of premium pay for top linemen is still the chief stumbling block against a settlement.

Legislature Begins Work on Multi-Million Dollar Tax Hikes

Hearings Set By Assembly Committees

Senate Group Taking Up Sales Tax Increase, Early Action Pledged

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The big push for millions more in new taxes picks up speed in the Democrat-controlled Legislature this week.

Spurred by Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's plea for early action to finance his two billion dollar stat- operating' budget, House and Senate taxation committees will step up activities.

Hearings Open Wednesday

Sen. Stephen R. Olenick (D-Mahoning) said his committee will start hearings Wednesday on a bill carrying sales tax boosts of more than 200 million dollars in two years. The measure also provides for an additional 20 millions by eliminating sales tax stamps.

Chairman A. G. Lancione (D-Belmont) of the House Taxation Committee said measures to boost cigarette, beer and corporation franchise revenues might be recommended for passage by Wednesday.

Leaders of the Democratic majority in both houses promised DiSalle to press for early enactment of tax measures to replenish Ohio's bare financial cupboard. The state can start collecting new taxes upon enactment, without the usual 90 days other laws must wait to become effective.

Building and Loan Bills

Returning from weekend adjournment, representatives will vote tonight on a series of proposals to help state-chartered building and loan firms. Enactment would put their operations on a par with associations holding federal charters.

One of the measures would permit state associations to make loans up to 90 per cent of property valuations to facilitate financing of low and middle income family housing. The state association limit now is 80 per cent although firms with federal charters can loan the full 90 per cent.

Other bills would give state associations the same power as federals to make mortgage and improvement loans to non-members; make loans outside a 50-mile radius of their headquarters, and increase loans to veterans and others for low-cost housing through sale of mortgages to the federal national mortgage association.

Administration Bill

Olenick introduced the big sales tax bill at the request of DiSalle who has called for tax increases of a third of a billion dollars to finance his designated state needs.

But the governor has indicated he actually will insist on only about two-thirds of the total called for, plus elimination of the tax stamps.

Major revenue would come from restoration of the penny tax on retail purchases between 15 and 41 cents to produce 18 million dollars; another 44 millions by lifting exemptions on bottled liquor, beer, wine and cigarettes, and four millions more from a sales tax on hotel and motel lodgings.

20-30 Easter Egg Hunt Will Be Held on Sunday

The fourth annual Easter egg hunt, sponsored by Marion's 20-30 International Service Club for youngsters in the Marion community, will be held next Sunday afternoon at the Marion County fairgrounds.

Ronald Steward and LaRoy Yeoman are general co-chairmen for this year's egg chase, according to Richard Freese, club vice president and project chairman.

The 20-30 club has purchased 250 dozen eggs and will award more than 250 prizes to the lucky youngsters. Children from 2 through 10 years of age will be permitted to participate.

Scene of the hunt, which attracted some 3,000 children at the fairgrounds last Easter Sunday, will again be the race track infield at the fairgrounds. It will start at 2:30 p.m.

Plans for this annual Easter festivity have been in progress for several weeks. Club members serving on committees are as follows:

Grounds and publicity, Walter Smiley (chairman), Richard Moore, Robert Smith, William Snyder, William Myers, Kenneth Spear, Robert E. Smith, Gene Kline, Harold Lloyd and John Wilk.

Supported in previous years by donations from local business and industrial concerns, the egg hunt this year is being financed by the 20-30 club's project fund.

Builder Gets Extension On County Ditch Work

The county commissioners today granted an extension until May 1 to R. G. Kneedler, Findlay contractor, for completing clearing and excavation work on the Gurley Ditch in Big Island and Green Camp townships.

Mr. Kneedler, who was awarded the contract last October, requested the extension because inclement weather has delayed work on the waterway, the commissioners said. The clearing and excavation work was to have been completed last Jan. 31, the commissioners said.

Gasoline Is Discovered In City Sanitary Sewer

Gasoline in sufficient concentration to cause an explosion was reported in the W. Center St. sanitary sewer today by Safety-Service Director Howard W. Travis.

He said the gasoline apparently is entering the sewer somewhere in the vicinity of Park Blvd. and W. Center St. No gasoline was found in the sewer east of this point but there was a large quantity of it to the west, he said.

Anyone discharging gasoline into the sanitary sewer should take immediate steps to discontinue the practice, Mr. Travis said.

Youth at Marengo Injured in Crash

Marion post highway patrolmen investigated one accident in Morrow County Sunday that resulted in possible serious injuries to a Marengo community youth.

Richard Gaddis, 14, of near Marengo, was reported in "fairly good" condition this morning in the Morrow County Hospital where he is being treated for a possible concussion suffered in an accident at 3:55 p.m. about three miles south of Marengo at the intersection of Morrow County Rds. 15 and 26.

Young Gaddis, riding a bicycle, was involved in an altercation in which cars driven by Joe A. Beacon, 35, of Sunbury, and Perry R. Layton, 25, of near Marengo, figured.

According to the report, Beacon was driving south on County Rd. 26, failed to heed a stop sign at the intersection and was struck in the left side by the Layton auto, westbound on 15. The force of the impact knocked the Beacon car into the bicycle being ridden by Gaddis.

Patrolmen said the youth was taken to the hospital in a Jacobs ambulance from Marengo.

Extensive damage were done both cars and the bicycle, and Beacon was fined $5 and costs by Marengo Mayor John Houpt for failure to heed a stop sign, according to the report.

Sheriff's Reports

A burglar made off with $50 from the Milton Fox residence on County Rd. 76 near Prospect Sunday night but overlooked some $25 in a kitchen cupboard, sheriff's deputies reported.

The burglary was reported at 10:50 p.m. by Mrs. Fox. She said she and her husband were at church from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. and that the money was missing from a purse and billfold when they returned.

Deputies said entrance was gained through an unclocked window on the north side of the house.

Two persons were reported bitten by dogs over the weekend.

General Hospital reported at 8:25 p.m. Sunday that Donald Gamble, 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Gamble of 128 St. Clair St., was treated for a bite received in the vicinity of County Rd. 105. Thomas Jenkins of Piqua reported at 12:30 a.m. Sunday that he was bitten after he got out of his car to repair a tire south of Marion on State Rt. 4.

—:—

Frances Click of near Cardington told deputies she left her purse on a lunch counter in Gallaher's Drug Store at the Marion Plaza Shopping Center and that it was missing when she returned later Saturday. It contained between $4 and $20, she reported.

Summit

The proposal covering these points was drafted by Macmillan and Eisenhower for inclusion in Western notes now expected to go to Moscow later this week. Khrushchev has been pressing for a summit conference for many months.

Some officials say the forging of a summit meeting was one of the Soviet leaders objectives in stirring up the Berlin crisis beginning last November.

Macmillan feels the Western heads of government must negotiate with Khrushchev even if the foreign ministers conference is a failure. Eisenhower feels every effort must be made to get basic progress toward a solution of the Berlin crisis and some start on other German problems at the foreign ministers meeting.

Macmillan clearly won a victory, which he very much desired, in getting Eisenhower to agree that the foreign ministers should prepare proposals for a summit conference.

Ike Protects Concern

Eisenhower protected his concern for progress at the foreign ministers meeting by retaining the idea he used in his radio-TV speech a week ago, that the heads of government should get together when justified by the accomplishments of their foreign ministers.

Macmillan yielded in his desire to fix a precise time and place now for the summit meeting and agreed the matter should be left up to the foreign ministers.

It was learned from diplomatic authorities today that the ministers of the United States, Britain and France will meet here March 31 for a confidential review of the German problem prior to an Atlantic Pact Council session which begins April 2. Final arrangements for the ministers meeting were made by Eisenhower and Macmillan at Camp David.

The compromise formula was disclosed as Eisenhower and Macmillan prepared to hold their final Berlin strategy session at the White House late this afternoon.

Guests of the meeting, which will be held at 6 p.m. at Highway Hotel, will be city and county clergymen.

Wants Fund Study

DiSalle Requests Delay In State Office Building

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. Michael V. DiSalle today asked the State Office Building Commission to mark time for 90 days pending a study of funds available for new construction.

He also asked Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy for an opinion on a statute requiring members of the Pardon and Parole Commission to give full time to their jobs.

Another request went to House Speaker James A. Lantz (D-Fairfield) proposing legislative authority for the governor to reorganize divisions within state departments for efficiency.

Will Call Halt

DiSalle said the State Office Building Commission, seeking a site for a new 15-million-dollar structure, would call a halt to its operations for 60 to 90 days.

"I feel a new office building is necessary but until we know about the money we can't go ahead," the governor told newsmen.

DiSalle asserted that a Pardon and Parole Commission statute requires that "each member shall give his entire time to his official duties on the commission."

The governor questioned whether that law meant that commission members could not have any outside source of income.

Commission Chairman Clarence McLeod said at a meeting with the governor Friday that he engages in a limited practice of law in his spare time. McLeod asserted that he gives the commission all the time he feels necessary for the performance of his duties.

Another member, Clingan Jackson, whose term expires this month, said he has been devoting full time to his job. Jackson previously worked part time as political writer for the Youngstown Vindicator.

Question of Requirement

DiSalle said there is a question in his mind whether the law requires full time or permitted other spare time activities.

DiSalle asked the Ohio Municipal League for a committee to meet with state officials on financial problems of government. Representatives of the league and several member cities told the governor Friday that bills pending in the Legislature would cost them nearly 30 million dollars a year without providing them compensating revenues.

The governor designated Finance Director James Maloon, Highway Director Everett Preston, and Tax Commissioner Stanley Bowers to meet with league delegates.

The governor has urged the Legislature to give local governments the power to collect taxes now paid to the state and returned to governmental subdivisions.

Two Points on Proposed City Income Tax Rules Explained

Two regulations pertaining to the proposed Marion city income tax that is to be voted on by City Council tonight were clarified today by City Solicitor Riley Hall.

He said the place of employment would take precedence over the place of residence in collection of the tax and that there would not be an across-the-board exemption of $100 a month on rental income. Previous reports on these two points were in error, he said.

Mr. Hall said that the legislation provides that a person residing in some other community, but earning his income or part of it in Marion, will pay the Marion tax on that part of his income earned here. If his home community also has an income tax, he would pay his home city the difference between the tax collected here and the tax there, Mr. Hall said.

As an example, if the home city had a tax of seven-tenths of one per cent, that person first would pay the proposed six-tenths of one per cent tax in Marion and then would pay the balance of one-tenth of one per cent to his home city.

Alternately, a Marion resident working in another community with a city income tax, would pay the tax there first before paying the tax here. In other words, the tax here would have to be greater than the tax charged in the city in which the income was earned before Marion could collect anything from such a person.

Regarding rental income, Mr. Hall said that as proposed, the city tax regulation provides that a person renting property would not be considered to be in the rental business unless gross income on rents amounted to more than $100 a month.

If income from rents were more than $100 a month, total net profits would be taxable under the terms of the proposed tax, Mr. Hall said.

This point previously was not fully explained and was misconstrued to mean that there would be no tax on the first $100 of income from rentals collected by property owners, he said.

Five persons were injured in one of six traffic accidents investigated Saturday and Sunday by Marion police.

The injury accident occurred in the 800 block of Mt. Vernon Ave. at 5:23 p.m. Sunday when a car driven by Lowell E. Williams, 48, of 880 Mt. Vernon Ave. was struck from the rear by a car driven by Hilda Oesterley, 56, of Upper Sandusky.

Mr. Williams and his wife, Mary Jo, were treated at Marion General Hospital for neck and back injuries and released.

Hurt in the other car were the driver, with mouth, leg and hand injuries; Mrs. George Schwabel, 65, of Upper Sandusky, with a bump on the head; and Mrs. Mary Cook also of Upper Sandusky, with a neck injury. They also were taken to General Hospital where they were treated and released.

The only other accident in the city caused total damage estimated by police at less than $100.

Green Camp Man Hurt

One person was injured slightly in one of two mishaps investigated Sunday by highway patrolmen from the Marion post.

John McHugh, 38, of Green Camp, sustained a bruised knee, mouth and chest when the car he was driving went off the right side of Marion St. in Green Camp. It struck and snapped off a utility pole before coming to a halt.

Patrolmen said the accident, which occurred at 3 a.m., took place just west of the Erie Railroad crossing on Marion St. McHugh apparently lost control of his auto after negotiating the crossing. Extensive damage resulted to the car.

An accident at 4:45 p.m. Sunday 2½ miles north of Marion on U.S. Rt. 23 involved a car operated by Gordon L. Kaylor, 30, of Columbus, and another car whose driver left the scene of the mishap.

The report noted that Kaylor, southbound, was sideswiped by an unidentified northbound car which failed to stop. Moderate damage was reported to Kaylor's vehicle.

Hunt for Nose Cone of ICBM Is Abandoned

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A highly advanced ICBM nose cone fired 5,000 miles through space was given up for lost in the Atlantic today.

The Air Force abandoned the little cone to the depths after a two-day search wound up Sunday with no results.

A huge Thor-Able rocket blasted the cone close to the intercontinental range in about 30 minutes early Saturday, but a fleet of C54 planes and ships failed to find it.

It was learned that a malfunction in the recovery package, probably the tiny radio transmitter, stymied the recovery efforts.

It was the sixth attempt to retrieve one of the elusive cones without success. However, good instrumentation reports were received on the cone's blazing reentry through the earth's atmosphere at speeds close to 15,000 m.p.h.

The Thor-Able, a first, stage Thor intermediate range ballistic missile coupled with a Vanguard, performed its job perfectly, to hurl the knob-shaped cone to an impact area near Ascension Island.

Twenty hours after the Thor-Able shoot, a regular Thor intermediate - range ballistic missile was fired on a test flight close to full range. Sources said it appeared to be highly successful.

Warmer Weather Predicted in Area

Weather in Marion County over the weekend was decidedly on the cool side.

A high of 51 was recorded Saturday, with the overnight low a frosty 12. Skies were relatively clear Sunday and the sun shone throughout the day, but a breeze served to keep the mercury from eclipsing the 36-degree mark.

During the night the temperature fell to a low of 19. It was back to 22 at 7:30 this morning, had reached 44 by noon and was expected to hit 55 before starting to drop to tonight's anticipated low of 34.

This morning dawned clear and remained so at noon. The weatherman, encouraged by the favorable turn of events, predicted fair and warmer circumstances for tonight. But, he also noted the probability of clouds Tuesday, although the weather in general was expected to be mild.

Tuesday should find the mercury cresting at 58.

No rain is likely in the county until perhaps Wednesday or Thursday, when scattered thundershowers are a possibility.

Lama were reported to have touched off the revolt. The people demonstrated in the streets of Lhasa March 10-11 when word got out that the Lama had been summoned to a Chinese military reception without his bodyguards. The ruler finally refused to go.

Informants said the demonstrators looted an arsenal and obtained large quantities of arms and ammunition. General fighting was said to have erupted when the Chinese tried to break up the demonstrations.

The only official word from the remote capital came from the Indian consul general, Maj. S. Chibber, who radioed New Delhi Sunday that fighting had ceased in the immediate vicinity of the consulate on the outskirts of Lhasa.

Radio and Television

By JOHN CROSBY

The Dorian Gray of TV

Bob Cummings is a remarkable and perhaps frightening fellow. He has been in show business since roughly the dawn of civilization; yet he looks like a young fellow fresh out of college whose chief interest is girls.

JOHN CROSBY

In fact, he plays such a fellow with great bounce, charm and conviction on the Bob Cummings Show, which is beginning to cover the globe. At coffee he reported gleefully that the series is now in Australia, Japan, Hong Kong, Cyprus, and places like that.

It's also on the Armed Forces Network where foreigners of many extractions bootleg it by monkeying with their dials.

-:-

"IN SPAIN they sell little gadgets that will fix the set so Spaniards can look at the show. I've got letters from Turkey and Greece and from behind the Iron Curtain. "Mostly they love Grandpa. (Besides playing a dewy youth, Cummings plays his own grandpa conceivably as penance for looking so eternally youthful.) They love him."

How do they manage to get the joke, if there are no subtitles, I asked.

"Well, girls are girls, anywhere," said Cummings. "It's a subject that doesn't require explanation."

Cummings may be doing vast damage to our public relations abroad, as a matter of fact. American men the world over are known as a nation of boys who are singularly reluctant to grow up. The perpetual spring of Robert Cummings can only intrench this idea further.

-:-

HOW THE DEVIL—I use the word advisedly, because I thought he might have sold his soul to him—did he stay so bloody young?

"Proper nutrition," declared Cummings heartily.

Cummings' father was a doctor who was a bug on the subject of nutrition. For the better part of his life, Dr. Cummings worked to improve people's diet and Cummings had diet drilled into him from an early age.

"My father used to say, 'You are what you eat.' It isn't your fault if you don't feel well. It's your ignorance about diet."

No one is more surprised than Cummings that his show, which never has been classified as great art, is still going strong after five years.

-:-

"I STARTED OUT as a dramatic actor and got into comedy very much by accident. They asked me if I'd like to do an anthology. But in an anthology you have to keep changing your makeup. In my show I don't wear makeup.

"Also, in an anthology you have to keep waiting for those scripts to come in—and if they don't come in, you don't eat."

The situation comedies are all an essentially one-joke operation. That is, there is a basic gag that is worked and reworked in all of them and Cummings' show is no exception.

To me, it's inconceivable that anyone could watch these things week after week without the joke's getting awfully stale.

Does his show have a loyal audience?

"Sure. In my own little world, everybody I meet tells me the plots of my shows, even when I've forgotten them. Or they write to say which are their favorite plots. That isn't just being nice—they can't fake that.

"The sponsor told me we had family acceptance and I thought those were just words. But when we moved from 8 to 9:30 we got snowed under with protests from kids who couldn't watch it any longer."

-:-

THOUGH HIS public image is that of the perpetually smiling, wise-cracking juvenile, Cummings is a serious actor and a good one. He did a fine job of acting in "Bomber's Moon" as a bomber pilot who was a coward.

"I like to do 'Playhouse 90' when there's a good part. It's like doing a full-length movie in one take. A lot of actors can't do it. I guess an actor likes to do things to prove and reprove himself.

"Live television is like a football game. You put the ball under your arm and run for all you're worth.

"I remember when we did 'Twelve Angry Men' a whole set fell down and there was an awful racket. But the sound man saw it coming and shut off the sound — and the cameras were faced in another direction, so they missed it.

"The audience knew nothing about it but the actors were so stunned they forgot their lines Then Eddie Arnold picked up a line and we came back to life.

"Oh, it's a great life—acting. But I wouldn't have any other. I'm a completely contented actor."

Perhaps that's why he looks so young.

A PLAYFUL PET. A playful 2-month-old South American puma was presented to a farm zoo at Libertyville, Ill., by Jerry Kentor, 8, (left), and his brother, Robert, 10. The boys' father, William E. Kentor, surprised the family by bringing the puma back from a business trip to Nicaragua five weeks ago. The puma is reported to be playful as a kitten. However, he is not housebroken, according to Mrs. Kentor. "In fact," she said, "it was more likely the house would be broken before he is. (UPI Telephoto)

Virginia Killer of 4 May Be Sawmill Worker, Police Feel

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — Anne Arundel County police are working on the theory that an itinerant sawmill worker may be the killer who wiped out a Virginia family of four.

Chief Wilbur Wade said Sunday night all three sites involved in the mass slaying — Mineral and Fredericksburg, Va. and Gambrills, Md.—are located near sawmills.

Carroll V. Jackson Jr., 29-year-old feed truck driver, his wife and two daughters disappeared the night of last Jan. 11 as they drove to their Mineral home after a visit with relatives.

On March 5 the bodies of Jackson and his 18-month-old daughter, Janet, were found by two men gathering sawdust from a lumber mill pile in Spotsylvania County, two miles west of Fredericksburg.

Last Saturday the 10-week search for the other members of the family came to a grisly end when the bodies of Mrs. Jackson, 27, and her 5-year-old daughter, Susan Ann, were uncovered in a shallow grave at Gambrills — about eight miles west of here.

Two teen-age boys hunting near the Army's sprawling Ft. Meade reservation made the discovery.

The location of the grave, off a lonely country road, was about a half mile from where the body of Mrs. Margaret Harold was found in June 1957.

Army Sgt. Roy Hudson, who was with Mrs. Harold when she was shot and killed, told police the crime was committed by a bushy-haired man.

Commission Merchants Operating

Search On for Influence Peddlers Inside of Labor

By VICTOR RIESEL

Now the search is on for the influence peddlers inside labor. And they don't operate for a meager 5 per cent either. You can call them commission merchants. They're not "con" men. They are contact men. They're not fronting for the crime combine. They are those labor officials who have been bird-dogging for those firms which want to sell something to a union or to another company dealing with some union.

VICTOR RIESEL

Contacting unions and corporations who just don't want trouble with certain unions is big money—and there is a list of some 200 union officials to prove this.

The list — one of many such around the country — belongs to a swank efficiency firm operating out of a modern Manhattan tower in the Madison-Park Ave. sector of the gray flannel front.

There is no point in naming this agency now. It will be in the news soon enough. Premature pinpointing would only affect the investigation, prosecution and blood pressure of witnesses. It is a major outfit operating under the bedside euphemism of "management-engineering."

-:-

THIS MEANS that it provides corporations with advice not only on cutting costs but on time and motion techniques which go into establishing the cost and, therefore, the price of an article or service. It helps set up new plants. It finds sites for new installations. Its services are valuable — but they cost plenty, too.

This firm has been advising corporations in the automobile, steel and textile industries. Some months ago the crusading office of Manhattan District Attorney Frank Hogan ran across it in one of Mr. Hogan's probes.

Just exactly how his rackets bureau chief, Al Scotti, a fellow who hits problems with pneumatic drill persistency and impact, came upon this, we outsiders don't yet know. However, the New York DA's office found a trail of hundreds of checks. Some of them were made out to labor leaders.

These checks, in turn, led to cities across the United States. Some were traced to an auto company in Toledo. Records of Auto Workers Union and Textile Workers Union officials were examined—but Mr. Hogan's office has made it amply clear that these were checked in routine course and did not by any means insinuate that these men were involved.

No one has yet been told specifically just where all this leads. Mr. Hogan and Mr. Scotti are known to be probing the alleged bribe of a Manhattan union official. But this would be only the tiniest bit of thread in a fabric, still gossamer, lying across the land.

-:-

THE PATTERN will eventually show that there are scores of second and third echelon union officials who are, in effect, salesmen for service and supply companies.

The union officials sometimes are on the company payrolls. Other times they receive straight million dollar insurance policies or printing contracts in behalf of the union.

Or sometimes they receive commissions for using their union prestige to make a contact in behalf of one company, such as an efficiency outfit, with another firm— usually a successful contact because many a company purchasing executive believes he would run into trouble with the union official unless the firm bought the service.

District Attorney Hogan's probe has run into big money payments in many cities. This is a more subtle racket than that pulled by the bumbling muscle men who dump trucks or smash plate glass store windows.

What is important here is that there really are no laws to cover this legal looting. Those who now see it unraveled argue that the only cure is a federal law setting up a "fiduciary" relationship between a union official and his union and its treasury—just as a bank president is related to his depositors' money. The bank official is responsible for every penny. And he cannot under the law invest funds in some project in return for a bribe.

Frank Hogan appears to be ripping the cover off the most respectable of rackets.

Collegians To Sing Here Wednesday

Student vocalists from Manchester College, the denomination's school at North Manchester, Ind., will be in Marion at First Church of the Brethren Wednesday night for a concert of sacred music.

The 40-voice group is under direction of Prof. Clyde W. Holsinger, head of the music department. On the current spring tour they will travel throughout Indiana and Ohio with performances scheduled in 17 churches and 8 schools.

Organized in 1946, the a cappella choir is successor to the Madrigal Club and Chapel Choir and has come to be recognized as one of Indiana's best choral organizations. It has been featured in nation-wide radio broadcasts, has participated in a number of opera and oratorio productions and is in demand for conferences, conventions and similar meetings.

Repertoire is made up of a variety of choral literature types of composition, ancient as well as modern. The director, known as a leader in his field, has served three years as editor and business manager for the Indiana Musicator, official publication of the Indiana Music Educators Association, and as chairman of National Council of State Editors. While at Northwestern University at Chicago, Ill., he was assistant director of choral organizations and a member of the summer teaching staff. He is a member of Pi Kappa Lambda, national honorary music fraternity.

New Offices for Joint Chiefs Of Staff May Cost $350,000

WASHINGTON (AP) — For the third time in 12 years, the Joint Chiefs of Staff will have their Pentagon offices reconstructed. This time the job may cost about $350,000.

A new expansion in the organization of the joint chiefs has caused the latest reconstruction. The expansion was provided under last year's Defense Reorganization Act.

No addition to the six million square feet of Pentagon floor space is required. But when a tenant moves out of a Pentagon suite and a new one moves in, they don't just move the furniture.

Walls are knocked down, new ones built. A door is sealed up and another one cut. New wiring for telephones and lights are installed.

The General Services Administration estimates the latest Pentagon change will involve about $250,000 worth of carpentry, electrical work and plumbing.

In addition, the expanded joint staff will have their own new furniture, rugs, drapes and other items. This, GSA calculates, might amount to another $100,000.

A huge pie-shaped section of the second floor of the Pentagon is being revamped to provide 70,000 square feet of floor space for approximately 400 additional personnel.

MEDINA, Ohio (AP)—Trying to spot the turkey vultures of Hinckley Lake can be risky business. Some 25,000 persons turned out to watch the birds, which leave the area each fall and return each spring.

Senators Split Over Defense Budget Boost

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Thomas E. Martin (R-Iowa) said today demands that President Eisenhower's 41-billion-dollar defense budget be increased are "motivated primarily by partisan politics and should be rejected."

Martin, a member of the Senate Space Committee, said a two-weeks inspection of Air Force installations, missile and aircraft projects convinced him the defense budget "will do the job of deterring the U.S.S.R. from starting war."

Among other things, Martin said, a group of senators viewed Atlas intercontinental ballistic missiles at Vandenberg Air Force Base, the Pacific Coast missile launching and test facilities center.

A contrary view was expressed by Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo), former secretary of the Air Force, in a filmed television interview with Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore).

Symington, long an advocate of more defense spending, predicted that the Democratic Congress will again vote increases in the missile and other defense fields above the Eisenhower requests.

Secretary of the Army Wilber M. Brucker, questioned by Sen. Karl E. Mundt (R-SD) in another television interview, said "there isn't any doubt about the fact that at the present moment the armed forces of the United States are so strong that we could, of course, destroy the Soviet."

The investment of the 1,300 life insurance companies in the United States in commercial and industrial rental properties now is more than two billion dollars.

Epistles From a Roman

Soldier Describes Restive Jerusalem

This is the first in a series of five Easter articles entitled "Epistles from a Roman." Each takes the form of a letter written by a Roman officer stationed in Judea who describes the historic events of a Passover season 2,000 years ago to his father in pagan Rome.

By TOM HENSHAW
Associated Press Religion Writer

JERUSALEM, JUDEA
16TH YEAR OF THE CAESAR TIBERIUS

Gaius my father,

I transmit to you the warmest filial greetings of a forlorn son who realizes after but a short time the dreadful error he made in asking transfer to this place. What did I do to deserve this, my new post of duty?

Judea is a wretched land, oppressed by sun and wind and barren of the smallest pleasures and comforts of glorious Rome or even provincial Gaul. East of us lies a great sea in which not a living thing can survive. The land is little better.

And the people! Strange, incomprehensible people! People so far removed from sensible thought that the son of a lowly carpenter can ride into the city on an ass—as one did—and be called king and be taken seriously by the people in the streets!

STRANGEST of the strange are the Jews who reject all the gods but one and claim to be his chosen people. Chosen people, indeed! If they are, why is it not they who rule instead of Rome?

Jerusalem is a seething hotbed of gossip and rumor, spawned in the superstitious fears and hopes of its wretched inhabitants and heightened by the approach of a festival called passover, the holy season of the Jews, who rapidly fill the city to overflowing.

The wildest of rumor has reached the ears of the Procurator for he has come all the way from Caesarea to supervise personally the maintenance of the peace. He is a timorous man, our Procurator Pilate, one who will go to great lengths to avoid trouble.

My friend Titus tells me the Procurator's fears go back to the time when he brought the banners of the Caesar into the city and it so aroused the Jews that Tiberius himself reprimanded Pilate and caused the banners to be removed.

THIS TIME, the Procurator's chief concern is the carpenter's son, who has come all the way from Galilee in the tetrarchy of Herod Antipas to be in Jrusalem for the passover and, some say, to become king of the Jews.

Many Jews believe him to be the anointed one—called by the Greeks the Christus—or the savior promised by the prophets of old who would be sent by their one god to overthrow foreign rulers and retore the ancient kingdom of Israel.

If this Galilean is the royal messiah then the Procurator has few worries for the man entered the city yesterday riding an ass instead of a kingly litter while his followers waved palm fronds instead of swords. We who watched could scarcely contain our amusement.

Nevertheless, our timid Procurator has suspended the daily garrison routine and has ordered the soldiers to remain inconspicuous for fear of arousing the Jews.

"If this Galilean is the royal messiah then the Procurator has few worries for the man entered the city yesterday riding an ass instead of a kingly litter while his followers waved palm fronds instead of swords."

Personally, I think one legion could clear the land of these people in a single day!

MY FRIEND Titus has told me some of the many stories that circulate about the man from Galilee who, for the past two or three years, has been agitating in the vicinity of Capernaum on the shore of the great fresh water sea. He appears to be something of a sorcerer.

One of the stories concerns a woman of Magdala, well - known to our troops in Galilee for her easy virtues who was reformed by the mere touch of the Galilean's hand. Our troops still speak peevishly of this unwelcome transformation.

It is said too that a Roman centurion, of all people, became a follower of the Galilean after the sorcerer cured the centurion's servant of palsy. This I find so hard to believe that I really should await confirmation before passing the story on to you.

But enough of this small talk! You can easily see what the heat and boredom of this place has done to me when I can find nothing better to write about than the strange doings of a wanderer from barbarous Galilee.

But better times may be ahead. Titus tells me there are excellent public baths in Caesarea and, when this passover festival is done, we may get a chance to go there and wash from our bodies the dust of this place.

Obediently
Valerius, thy son

Leg Amputated by Penknife; Crash Victim, 6, Clings to Life

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Little Julia Ellis, 8, whose right leg was amputated Saturday night by a doctor operating with a borrowed penknife, clung doggedly to life today.

The girl was in critical condition in a suburban Kirkwood hospital but nurses said she was doing well in view of what had happened.

Julia's sister, Donna, 9, was in the same hospital, recovering from fracture of both legs. They were struck Saturday night by a car which skidded around a curve on a gravel road near their home in Arnold, Mo., 5 miles southwest of St. Louis.

State police said the driver was Robert E. Kemp, 25, of suburban Lemay. He was charged with careless and reckless driving while drinking.

The girls were walking toward home. Their mother, Mrs. Clarence Ellis, saw the car hit them.

Donna was knocked 20 feet to the side of the road, but Julia's leg became wedged between the car's rear bumper and a fender and she was dragged 70 feet.

Dr. Howard W. Soman of Arnold, was called to the scene. He borrowed a knife from state trooper Emmett Welch and using light from head lamps on the patrol car, removed Julia's leg below the knee.

A salad of romaine (or other greens) and fresh pears benefit from a cheese dressing. Make the dressing yourself or buy one of the best of the new ones — it comes in an 8-ounce bottle, is creamy in color and texture and contains both blue and Roquefort cheese.

East Tech, Edgerton Claim State Championships

Scarabs Roll Past Salem Squad 71-51

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Upstate Ohio is slowly but surely adding basketball to its list of high school sports supremacy.

The once-dominant south still has a big edge in cage championships, but the north is seated firmly on the current throne.

Cleveland East Tech's mighty Scarabs, tall, talented and terrifically fast, won their second straight Class AA championship Saturday night by a convincing 71-51 score over Salem's Quakers.

Win 51st in Row

The victory ran Tech's 1959 string of conquests to 25, and gave the Scarabs 51 straight over the last two years—in both of which they emerged as the Buckeye realm's only unbeaten Class AA squad.

Edgerton, from far up in Williams County only three miles from the Indiana line and 18 from Michigan, grabbed the Class A laurels—and the overlooked and underrated Bulldogs did it the hard way.

They ousted defending champion Northwestern of Wayne County, rated No. 1 in the division, by 58-51 in the semi-finals, and came back to take the title with a 57-53 nod over Lynnwood-Jacksontown which had upset unbeaten teams in its last three starts.

The Bulldogs finished with a 26-3 record—having lost during the season to Hicksville, Edon and Stryker—but they had it in the tournament test. In each game, Edgerton was forced to come from far behind.

Thus the far north sector has taken the Class AA crown twice in a row—the first time that's happened since the tourney started in 1923.

Third Straight Title

And the upper district has copped the Class A title three times straight, a feat accomplished only once before when Delphos St. John, Miller City and Grand Rapids triumphed in 1949, 1950 and 1951.

The north has won every football championship since The Associated Press poll was founded in 1947, and holds a long lead in track, swimming and wrestling titles. Baseball and tennis honors belong to the south by a hefty margin.

In Class AA basketball, the southwestern district has won 18 championships, or almost half the 37. Other districts have won: Northeast and east 6, central 4, northwestern 2 and southeast 1.

In Class A the championship set-up is southwest 10, northeast 9, northwest 8, central 4, and east and southeast 3 each.

Bob Grundish, 155-pound Edgerton senior, led the tournament scorers with 46 points—26 against Northwestern and 20 against Lynnwood-Jacksontown. In Class AA, the top man was East Tech's All-Ohio star, Ken Glenn, who had 18 and 23-point sprees for a 41 total. Jim Stone, third-string All-Ohio choice from East Tech, scored 32.

Ken Franz of Edgerton had 30 for two games, followed by Jim Turner and Carl Holman of Lynnwood with 28 and 27. Salem showed balance in its scoring as Dan Krichbaum totaled 26, Woody Deitch 24, Dave Hunter 22 and Lou Slaby 21.

LOU "THE TOE" GROZA SCORES AGAIN

Marion — Lou Groza fabulous place kicker and offensive tackle for the Cleveland Brown football team scored well with everybody who met him at Marion Plaza recently. The amiable 35 year old, 248 pound tackle was interviewed by radio station WMRN from KWIK KLEENERS, the all new modern drycleaning plant, which recently opened in the shopping center. Former Ohio State football "great" Joe Whisler was on hand at KWIK KLEENERS with his son to greet Lou.
Since the "Toe" is also connected with the dry cleaning business, he wanted Jack Follrath, also a former O.S.U. man and now owner of KWIK KLEENERS to show him the modern plant which features the only garment conveyor in Marion. This conveyer delivers garments to the counter in a matter of seconds. Lou then autographed a new type of plastic practice footballs which were given away free with dry cleaning orders.
KWIK KLEENERS features modern dry cleaning equipment, reasonable prices, KWIK (quick) service, and hours from 7:30 A.M. to 9 P.M.—So save money this year by having your clothes drycleaned for EASTER. KWIK KLEENERS will give them that "LIKE NEW LOOK." Never a parking problem at Marion Plaza.—Paid. Adv.

Celtics Move Ahead in NBA Playoff Action

By The Associated Press

The Boston Celtics held a 2-1 lead over the Syracuse Nationals in the Eastern Division while the St. Louis Hawks and the Minneapolis Lakers were all tied at 1-1 in the Western Division today in the National Basketball Assn. semifinal playoffs.

But a main concern was the talk of possible dissension on the Nationals between Coach Paul Seymour and scoring ace Dolph Schayes.

Both deny there is anything to the report, but in Sunday's 133-111 loss to Boston, Schayes sat out more than half the game.

"I took him out midway in the second period and put in Togo Palazzi because Togo is an aggressive type player who can sometimes catch fire," said Seymour.

Seymour and Schayes both said the Syracuse scoring star suffered a momentary blackout in Saturday night's 120-118 victory over the Celtics at Syracuse. Seymour added that Schayes' wife had told him Dolph is occasionally bothered by double vision.

Seymour said he is sending Schayes for an examination today.

Frank Ramsey came off the Celtics' bench to score 15 of his 24 points in the second period. The Boston surge put the game out of the Nats' reach.

"At that point," said Seymour, "I saw no point in overworking Schayes."

Boston had a slim 31-27 first quarter margin but at halftime it was 64-45. Schayes, despite his limited action, wound up as the Nats' top scorer with 21 points.

In the Western Division, the Hawks got off in front at home Saturday by downing the Lakers 124-90 but they bowed 106-98 when the series shifted to St. Paul Sunday.

Minneapolis, which won only 4 of its 12 games with the Hawks during the regular season, chalked up its victory with Elgin Baylor scoring 33 points. Bob Pettit had 22 for St. Louis.

Car Wins Trophy

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Cross of 1224 Mt. Vernon Ave., won the first place trophy in the roadster division of the auto show sponsored Sunday by the Flying Angels of Mansfield. The win gives the Cross roadster 27 trophies in its last 16 shows.

Bowler Posts 300 Effort in State Tourney

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—John C. Smith, a 46-year - old competitor from Toronto, Ohio, rolled a 300 game Sunday in the second game of doubles competition in the Ohio State Bowling Assn. tournament underway here weekends.

"That last ball weighed a ton," he said. "It wobbled and was the only bad hit of the set."

Smith's three-game score was 162-300-168—630.

There were four changes in the leaders.

Joe Veres and Bill Valiquette of Toledo moved in front of the doubles actual by 66 pins with a 680 by Veres and a 613 by Valiquette for 1293.

The doubles handicap went to Ted Kleener and Tom West of Youngstown with a 1362.

Frank Finn of Xenia took over the singles actual lead with a 688. Oliver Alanen of Mentor with a 755 score went into the lead in the singles handicap.

Bowlers To Meet

The Monday Night Ladies Bowling League will meet for a business meeting tonight at 8:30 at the Palace Recreation Center. In charge of the session will be Florence Stumbo, league president.

Tech Rally Brief, Subdued

Edgerton Fans Stage Boisterous Celebration

By The Associated Press

The champions and the almost champions came home Sunday from the state basketball finals at Columbus. Parades, bands and cheering fans welcomed the teams.

Cleveland East Tech, Class AA champs for the second year in a row, was greeted by more than 700 fans, but the welcome was more subdued than last year. Carrying the big Class AA trophy with them, the Scarabs were met at Cleveland's Union Terminal by a 42-piece band and a motorcade.

Later, at the high school, about 500 students turned out. The band played a verse of the fight song and the rally was over. The tired basketball kings, surrounded by admirers, went their separate ways.

After all, one of the homecoming party observed, "it's pretty hard to get excited when we knew they were going to win."

Team Surprises Fans

But that wasn't the case in Williams County where the Class A champions, Edgerton brought home the title. No one had expected the Bulldogs to go all the way.

They had to come from behind in the semifinal round to whip Northwestern 58-51. And they were down six points at the half in the championship tilt, which they won by defeating Lynnwood-Jacksontown 57-53.

As the automobile carrying the team neared Edgerton, in the northwest corner of Ohio, other cars fell into line. By the time the caravan reached town it was almost two miles long.

Mayor Henry Herman was there. And the high school band. The American Legion color guard was on hand, too. The hometown folks cheered and shouted.

"I don't know which was the greatest thrill," said Coach G.D. (Babe) Shoup, "winning or coming home."

At the high school gym more than 2,000 persons crowded in. The mob spilled over into the street.

Classes Dismissed Today

Classes were called off today to honor the champs and a celebration dance is scheduled tonight.

In Salem, the Quakers were greeted like champions although they lost to East Tech in the finals, 71-51.

The team was met near Damascus, five miles west of Salem, and put into convertibles for the parade through Salem. Along with the band, there was a police escort and a color guard. More than 3,000 people lined the streets.

At ceremonies in the center of town, Co-captain Lou Slaby called the homecoming "the greatest thrill of my life.

"I'm only sorry," he said, "we couldn't win the other (championship) trophy, because you deserve it."

Licking County hailed Lynnwood-Jacksontown, which advanced farther than any other Class A basketball team in county history.

The team toured the county in a motorcade of 200 cars. At Newark, the Trojans were carried through town on a fire truck.

The celebration was both a wel-

Local Swim Team Nails Ninth Place

The Marion YMCA intermediate team closed its season Saturday at the Annual Ohio-West Virginia Swimming Championships held in the Ohio State natatorium by scoring nine points against top flight competition for ninth place among the 31 teams entered.

Canton YMCA, led by All-American high schooler Marty Mull and others from the state scholastic champ Canton McKinley team, easily won the honors over defending champion Dayton YMCA. Scores for the top 10 were Canton 53, Dayton 36, Warren 27, Cuyahoga Falls 26, Cleveland University Circle 21, Lima 20, Wheeling, W. Va., 17, Springfield 12, Marion 10 and Alliance 7.

Several Records Beaten

Records fell in many events with winning times from previous years failing to even qualify for the finals. Only the most outstanding swimmers were able to place in either the intermediate or junior events. Leading the Marion team scoring were backstroke ace Ed Cooper and diver Bob Finney with fourth places in their specialties. Freestyle sprinter Bruce Kohler picked up a sixth place in the 50 yard freestyle as did the medley relay team of Cooper, Al-McKee, Kohler and Dan Thompson. With a good 6-3 dual meet record and the district championship the locals still had a fine season and will be out to improve their record next year.

Team Captain Ed Cooper, Dan Thompson and Dick White will be lost by graduation but Coach Warren Foster has hopes of replacing them with sophomores coming up or from new talent that will be developed this summer at the new city pools.

Juniors Finish 11th

The Marion YMCA junior swim team ran into a really tough field of young swimming stars at the Ohio West Virginia championships with only two swimmers able to gain the finals to place Marion 11th among the 31 teams.

The Canton "Y" made a clean sweep of honors by taking the junior title behind the work of Bill Schubach, outstanding McKinley, High School freshman who was a double winner. Top scores were Canton 46, Youngstown 39, Columbus 26, Cleveland Heights 24, Cleveland Hill-Creast 17, Toledo 14 Lima & Dover 13, Cuyahoga Falls 8, Dayton 6, and Marion 5.

Tom Ivers was the only Marion medal winner with a close third place in the 50 yard freestyle while Mike Bartley took sixth place in the diving field. Both swimmers will move up to the intermediate team next year. Bob White and Jim Lenavitt, both finishing just out of the top six, will be the only juniors to return next season however a fine group of prep swimmers will be moving up to help restore the junior team to its former position as one of the top teams in the area.

Third Straight Crown

YMCA Wrestlers Take 2-State Title

The Marion YMCA's wrestling team gained its third consecutive Ohio-West Virginia YMCA mat championship Saturday to retire the coveted two-state trophy for the first time in the history of that award.

Marion lanued six state champions and two runners-up on the way to victory over what veteran observers called "the toughest field yet seen" in the "Y" tourney.

Marion ran up 43 points to gain the championship with Cleveland running second with 17 markers. Zanesville picked up 11 points while Wheeling and Toledo tied for fourth with 8 followed by Cincinnati and Ashland with three points apiece while Columbus, Canton and Dayton failed to score.

AT 103 POUNDS, Buster VanDeWater gained the finals on the draw only to lose a tough match to Black of Cleveland 9-2 to gain a second place award in that division. Dale Kibbey, last year's 103 pound champion, worked his way up through the ranks in the 112 pound class, pinning Hoover of Wheeling late in the first period of their preliminary match and then pinning Hrouda of Cleveland in the second period of the semifinal round. Kibbey then won the 112 pound championship with an impressive 10-2 decision win over Warne of Zanesville. Bob Kuhn, doing his best job of the season, lost a close 6-4 decision to Warne in the semifinal round in that same weight group.

At 120 pounds, hard luck continued to plague Bill Haynes as he lost in overtime to Nelson of Zanesville. Haynes had his opponent in a pin hold when the final whistle sounded. Skoczen of Cleveland went on to win that weight group championship. At 127 Joel Lenavitt gained a runner-up position by beating Phil Cohagen of Zanesville 1-0 in the preliminaries and then stopping Kennen of Wheeling 4-2. However Steeley of Cleveland stopped his bid for championship honors in the finals with a 7-3 victory. Marty Kaufman working in the same division, lost a heartbreaking 7-4 decision to Glen Rowley of Columbus in the preliminaries. Rowley, voted best wrestler in the Marion Invitational last week, lost to Steeley in the semifinals.

AT 133 POUNDS, Bill Thatcher won his fourth straight state championship with two impressive pins, stopping O'Connor of Cleveland in 21 seconds and then in the finals, coming from behind to pin Vilen of Cleveland early in the third frame of that contest. Chris Kimball, also at 133, did a fine job in losing to Harris of Ashland 8-3.

At 138, first year man Harry Spring garnered Marion's third straight weight group crown, pinning Steele of Columbus in the late stages of the preliminary contest and then defeating Wertz of Cincinnati 3-1 in the semifinals. Spring gained the title with an overtime 4-2 defeat of Bodgers of Wheeling. Bob Davenport also in that weight group lost to Bodgers in the preliminaries by a 1-4 decision.

Bud Kelley remained undefeated and untied as he gained the 145 pound class title. Kelley defeated Dyser of Zanesville by a pin in the second period and then won the championship with a 4-0 beating of Omen of Cincinnati. Fred Kibbey also at that weight beat Doug Beaver, his teammate, in the preliminaries 8-4 but lost to Omen in the semifinals 5-2. Mike Moore lost to Dyer in the preliminaries on a first period pin.

At 154, John Keller pinned Dowell of Cincinnati in the third period of their preliminary contest but fell victim to his old foe Lynn Worstell of Zanesville in the semifinals by a fall in the late stages of the third frame.

JERRY GIBSON won the 165 pound title with an overtime victory in the finals over Perecinsky of Cleveland 10-6. Gibson gained a reversal and two predicaments to give him a four point output in the overtime period.

Marion's last scoring for the afternoon came for defending champion Clyde Thomas as he did everything but pin Shaw of Toledo. Marion's co-captain mustered a 10-point barrage while holding his opponent to 1 marker.

Pete Wolfinger, Marion's heavyweight, was not able to wrestle due to an ax wound suffered Friday while chopping wood at home. Pitt of Wheeling won the title in that division.

The Marion team will have a squad meeting this afternoon to determine the best wrestler, most improved wrestler and captains.

Illinois Golfer Takes Lead at St. Petersburg

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—The touring golf pros had a new rabbit to chase as they started the final round of the $15,000 St. Petersburg Open Tournament today.

Bob Goalby, the husky and handsome youngster who was chosen "Rookie of the Year" for 1958 by the leading money winners on the circuit, carved out a neat 3-under-par 69 Sunday for a 205 total and a one stroke lead at the three quarter mark.

The 28-year-old from Belleville, Ill., credits a revamped grip for an improved game that has brought him rounds of 70, 66 and 69. He discovered he got better results by holding the club more in the fingers of the left hand, a grip he once discarded.

Runner-up is another big man, Cary Middlecoff of Hollywood, Fla. The erstwhile Memphis dentist, competing in his first tournament since a hernia operation last September, sank putts from all distances on the second nine Sunday to wind up with a 67 and a total of 206.

One stroke behind Middlecoff was Pete Cooper, Lakewood, Fla., who had a 69 to add to earlier rounds of 68 and 70.

It was a rough day for the top men at the half-way mark, Goalby and Cooper excepted. George Bayer, of Gleneagles, Ill., top man after 36 holes with 135, blew wide open with a 77 and a 212 total, a seventh place tie.

Wes Ellie Jr., of Aldeeress, N.J., only a stroke behind Bayer after two rounds, took a 74 to drop five strokes off the pace.

3 Bowlers Roll Perfect Games on Same Night

CLEVELAND — Three perfect 300 games on the same lanes—and on the same night!

That's what happened Thursday night in the Classic League at Twenty Grand Recreation here, where Tom Suchan, Paul Kulbaga and Joe Gajda bowled 300s.

Suchan wound up with a 763 series, Kulbaga had 710 and Gajda 661.

Californians Win NCAA Crown in Closing Seconds

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — With his fair skin, blond crew-cut hair and gentle features, Darrall Imhoff looks like an All-America boy. By this time next year, he could be an All-America basketball player.

The 6-10 pivotman of California's National Collegiate Athletic Assn. basketball champions has come such a long way in two years those closest to him say there's no telling what heights he may reach.

Trouble Making Team

As a high school basketball player in Alhambra, Calif., he had trouble making the first team. He was no shakes as a freshman at Cal two years ago. Last year as a sophomore, he got into 16 games and scored 14 points—a per game average of nine-tenths of a point.

Saturday night at spacious Freedom Hall here, his tip-in rebound of his own missed hook shot with 17 seconds left beat gritty West Virginia 71-70 for the NCAA title.

In the two-night NCAA showdown here, only All-Americas Jerry West of West Virginia and Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati drew more attention. West, who tied the five-game NCAA tournament record of 160 points, was the overwhelming choice of the sports writers for the Most Valuable Player Award. Imhoff was the runner-up.

Both West, a unanimous choice, and Robertson polled more votes for the All-Tournament Team. But Imhoff got the nod from 48 of the 56 voters for a solid third position on the team rounded out by Cal teammate Denny Fitzpatrick and Louisville's Don Goldstein.

Leads Louisville Attack

Goldstein was a steady scorer for the homestanding Cardinals in their losses to West Virginia in the semifinals and to Cincinnati by a 98-85 count in Saturday's consolation test for third place.

"To compare Darrall—as some have done—with Bill Russell on defense at this stage is like comparing a college player with a third grader," said Coach Pete Newell, the master of defense and slow-down play who capped a 16-game winning streak with California's first NCAA basketball title and the first for a Pacific Coast Conference team since 1942.

"Let's say he approximates Russell and could reach that class in two or three years."

Edgerton Cage Coach Is Native of Richwood

Greeley D. (Babe) Shoup, coach of the Class A state championship Edgerton team, is a native of Richwood where he was graduated in 1947.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shoup, he won his diploma after serving two years in the armed forces. He originally was a member of the class of 1945 but received his diploma with the 1947 graduating class.

Following his high school graduation, he enrolled at Ohio Northern University and has been at the Edgerton helm for eight years. His teams have either won or finished second all eight years in the Williams County League. Two years ago, the team was eliminated in district tourney play in a two-point loss to Ayersville. That team went on to take the state crown.

come and farewell. The school, located in Jacksontown, seven miles south of Newark, closes this June. Students will attend a new consolidated school, Lakewood, between Hebron and Jacksontown.

At Kings Creek, a community of 300 persons in Champaign County, the Salem Local team was cheered and hometown fans paraded Saturday night. Salem Local was knocked out of the Class A finals in the semifinaal round. The team finished with a 27-1 record.

The average night game attendance in the American League last season was 14,703.

Reds' Slugger Leads Attack In 9-6 Defeat

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—Officials of the Cincinnati Reds hope Frankie Robinson has worked out of whatever caused his hitting slump last season.

He's had his ups and downs in spring exhibition games—but his teammates have had similar cycles in the rain-soaked state.

And he gets a hot streak now and then—like Sunday against Chicago's White Sox. He banged a three-run homer and singled in another marker. But the Reds lost anyway, 9-6.

The California slugger did little at the plate for the first half of last season, then got hot and finished with a fairly respectable .269 average, with 23 homers and 60 runs batted in.

He has been tabbed for duty at first base this season, but with all the question marks in the team, he may find himself back patrolling the outfield.

Manager Mayo Smith has Robinson, Walt Dropo, Frank Thomas, Chuck Coles and Johnny Powers to chose for first base duty.

Robinson banged 93 home runs in his first three seasons as a major leaguer and drove in 241 runs. He was National League rookie of 1956, and graduated to league sophomore of 1957 when he batted .322.

Then came his hitting troubles early last season.

The Reds, hoping the rains are over here, meet the Detroit Tigers today. Young Claude Osteen and Bob Mabe are slated to do the pitching.

Shoulder Ailment Hits Ted Williams

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (AP) — Ted Williams, Boston's 40-year-old American League batting champion, is having trouble shaking a week-old shoulder ailment despite the hot Arizona sun.

"I can't run, I can't throw and I can't hit," moaned the slugging outfielder Sunday after a 125-mile trip to Tucson for a scheduled appearance against Cleveland.

The prospect of seeing Williams in action had attracted a sellout crowd of 5,016.

"I just can't play and I'm sorry to disappoint all these fans, but I have no alternative," Ted said as he received a cortisone injection for what Dr. Don Kelley, Cleveland team physician, called a cold in the right shoulder.

Trinity Squad Loses Bid for Championship

Marion's Trinity Lutheran Church hardcourt team was defeated 80-69 by Mount Olivet in the championship game of the Ohio-West Virginia YMCA Basketball Tournament Saturday in Columbus.

The loss came after the local five, winners of the Marion Church League title and the district crown at Lima, had polished off Akron's Church of Christ quintet in a morning action 100-97 in a rousing overtime battle. Lutheran trailed by 18 points with four minutes left to play in that action then came on to knot the count at game's end.

Mount Olivet used a devastating attack from the field to subdue the Lutherans. All told, the victors rolled in 36 goals and made 8 completions from the foul line. Trinity counted 23 times on goals and 23 times at the foul line.

The big guns in the Olivet attack were Myriak and Dunn, whose combined efforts produced 55 of their team's 80 points. Myriak rimmed Lutheran buckets for 14 goals and a single free throw for 29 points. Dunn counted 11 times from the field and 4 at the charity circle.

Sherrell Leffler, who banged in 39 points in Lutheran's triumph over the Akron crew, was high for his mates in the title game, hitting for 12 goals and 12 free throws for 36 points.

Marriage Rate Dips

CLEVELAND (AP)—The marriage rate in Cuyahoga County last year dropped to the lowest level since the early 1930s. Figures released Sunday show 7.2 marriages per 1,000 population in 1958, lowest since the 1931-35 period. The number of marriages was 11,483 compared with a record 19,165 in 1946. A smaller number of eligible bachelors and the recession were cited as probable reasons for the drop in the marriage rate.

They are Claude Akers, 19, of Surosa, W. Va.; his brother, Andy, 18, and Ronald Foster, 17, both of Dayton.

When arrested by a deputy sheriff who spotted them in a taxicab, the youths were armed with five knives and a razor, police said.

Bradley Falls in Overtime

Sophomore Cager Leads St. John's to NIT Victory

NEW YORK (AP) "What a way to go out," St. John's University basketball captain Al Seiden enthused today as he looked back on his team's 76-71 overtime victory Saturday over Bradley for the National Invitational Tournament title.

"We sure had a lot of guts out there," Seiden continued. "As far as I'm concerned, a great team won."

Winning Coach Agrees

Coach Joe Lapchick thought so too.

"They were courageous. They all had so much guts out there," he said.

But he had his greatest praise for Seiden who, with Tony Jackson, was most instrumental in getting St. John's its third NIT title before a national television audience.

"Seiden made them (Bradley) change their whole style of play when he re-entered the game with four fouls. They were trying desperately to get rid of him. But they couldn't do it."

Seiden said he knew Bradley was out to get him.

"But I didn't change my style of play. As soon as I saw them come out of that zone defense I knew I could really go to work. Before then, I just couldn't penetrate the zone," he admitted.

Leads Winning Rally

Lapchick pulled Seiden with less than half the second half remaining and sent him back about two minutes later. St. John's was trailing Bradley 54-49. But Jackson, who won the game's most valuable player award, also took advantge of the man-to-man defense and teamed with Seiden to tie the score at 55-55. A half minute later Seiden gave St. John's a 57-55 lead and they never trailed though tied thrice more.

Bradley coach Chuck Orsborn thought Jackson was the big difference. The brilliant soph pulled down 27 rebounds and hit 21 points, one less than Seiden.

"Jackson did it. His rebounding and shooting were the big difference," Orsborn said.

Garcia Struck By Line Drive, Suffers Injury

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Pitcher Mike Garcia held an ice pack on his bruised left leg and commented: "I didn't know where the ball was till it hit me."

The Cleveland Indian hurler was struck Sunday by a line drive off the bat of Boston's Billy Consolo in an exhibition game won by the Tribe 7-5. Garcia was carried off the field on a stretcher, the Indians' first real casualty of the training season.

"His leg was badly bruised," said Dr. Don Kelly, team physician, "and it will be a week before he can do much of anything in the way of training.

The injury will delay Garcia's attempted comeback. He was dropped from the Cleveland roster last year and then underwent operation for removal of a ruptured spinal disc.

The victory over Boston squared Cleveland's exhibition record at 7-7.

Vic Power sparked the Tribe's 11-hit attack with a double and two singles in five trips to the plate. He scored three runs, one of them when he stole home in the third inning.

The Indians got effective pitching from Gary Bell and Carl Thomas, a 6-foot-5, 250-pounder.

Bell struck out five batters in five innings, allowed seven hits and three runs and got credit for the victory.

Thomas, called in after Garcia's injury, retired nine straight batters, two on strikeouts.

In weekend action on the trading market ,Frank Lane, Tribe's general manager, dealt Larry Doby to Detroit in a straight player deal, getting Tito Francona in return.

Lane said he had been informed that Francona was dissatisfied at Detroit and he made the deal.

"I am always interested in guys who want to be traded," he said. "They happened to be interested in Larry Doby so we made the deal."

Doby, who has been trying out at first base in the Tribe's spring training expressed satisfaction with the trade. He has been a big favorite in Detroit over the years and has hit well in Briggs Stadium.

"If I can play 140 games for the Tigers, I should be able to hit 25 or 30 home runs," Doby said.

Mel Perry, 181 pound weight lifter from the Marion YMCA, led all the way to take first place in the annual Ohio-West Virginia Area meet Saturday in Columbus.

Playing it safe Perry had a lower total than he is capable of attaining, but he still amassed a 615-pound total via a 195-pound press, a 180-pound snatch, plus a 240-pound clean and jerk. This put him ahead of the second place man by 30 pounds.

Teammate Bill Thomas gained second place in the 132-pound division. Thomas made sure of second place by taking a lower than usual clean and jerk, then went for a win with an attempt of a 200-pound clean and jerk. He cleaned this weight but missed the jerk to finish second with a 475-pound total via a 160 - pound press, a 145-pound snatch, plus a 170-pound clean and jerk. The first place man won with a 495-pound total.

ESKIMO GRANDMOTHER HEADING HOME. Ningeooapik, 68, a pipe-smoking Eskimo grandmother, is annoyed about returning to the Arctic Circle after two years at a tuberculosis sanatorium at Hamilton, Ont. But it isn't the prospect of 50-below zero weather that bothers her. She's upset because it is hard to buy pipe tobacco there. Infield Rookie Sparks Cards To 3-1 Victory

By The Associated Press

Julio Gotay, a 19-year-old speedster with the Pepper Martin flare for daring on the basepaths, has restored the Gashouse Gang flavor to the St. Louis Cardinals.

The Puerto Rican youngster, a shortstop not even listed on the spring training roster, is making quite a stir in the Redbird training camp.

With the Cards limited to three hits by Los Angeles, it was Gotay's base-running which brought about St. Louis' 3-1 triumph over the Dodgers Sunday. He was largely responsible for the Cardinals two decisive runs in the second inning.

Cleveland suffered a jolt when veteran right-hander Mike (Big Bear) Garcia was struck by a line drive on the left knee and carried from the field as the Indians topped Boston 7-5.

Yankees Beaten Twice

In other games, Baltimore took a doubleheader from New York 6-3 and 4-0, Detroit clobbered Milwaukee 10-4, San Francisco defeated Chicago's Cubs 10-7, Kansas City thumped Washington 11-1, Pittsburgh beat Philadelphia 9-1 and Chicago's White Sox beat Cincinnati 9-6.

Oddly, Gotay started the Cards off by striking out, but when the ball got by the catcher, the Red Bird newcomer legged it all the way to second as Joe Cunningham scored. Then B. G. Smith tapped to the mound. Pitcher Gene Snyder bluffed Gotay back to second and threw out the batter.

But Gotay didn't return all the way. He applied the brakes, reversed his direction and streaked for third. The throw from first baseman Norm Larker trying to head him off was wild and Gotay scampered home with what proved to be the winning tally.

Garcia, attempting a comeback after undergoing an operation for a slipped disc, was clipped by Billy Consolo's liner in the seventh. The Indians won it with an 11-hit attack led by Vic Power.

A trio of 20-year-old Baltimore pitchers beat the world champion Yankees. Jerry Walker and Johnny Fisher combined for the first victory with home run support from Gus Triandos and Leo Burke. Young Milt Pappas, who pitched six innings, and the veteran Hec Brown notched the shutout, a seven-inning affair.

Pitchers Walk Eight

Eight walks by Carlton Willey and Gerry Nelson proved the Braves' undoing as they lost their ninth in 12 games. Harvey Kuenn led the Tigers with three hits.

Felipe Alou's two homers for the Giants and one by Andre Rodgers matched Cub blasts by Jim Marshall, Ray Bellino and Ernie Banks.

A pair of home runs by Hal Smith and solo clouts by Roger Maris and Kent Hadley were among 12 hits the A's blasted off Washington pitching in an eight inning game curtailed by rain. Kansas City's Rip Coleman pitched one-hit ball in his seven-inning stint.

Dick Schofield's three - run homer ignited a six-run Pirate uprising in the seventh. Harvey Haddix hurled seven innings and held the Phils to four hits.

Billy Goodman and Jim Rivera drove across two runs each as the White Sox clubbed Cincinnati bonus baby Jim O'Toole for seven runs.

To Your Good Health

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

How To Purify Water at Vacation Camps

My repeated heckling doubtless has made most readers aware of the importance I attach to drinking water at vacation camps or cabins.

Dr. Molner

Although city water has become highly dependable, when we get out to our leisure or summer stamping grounds where we depend on a well, spring, cistern or pond, it's a bucket of a different color.

In various localities you will find different places to go for testing: township, county, state or provincial health departments. Sometimes I dare say you will have to rely on some commercial laboratory; nevertheless, have your water tested for purity!

In addition to this simple but very important problem, I receive occasional inquiries as to how you can purify water when you have not yet had time to have it tested.

THE ONE generally-known method is boiling. But then you don't always have facilities for boiling and storing enough water for your needs. If you are camping, or building a cabin, at times you have to depend on what water is available until you can dig a well or provide some other source.

How long must you boil water? You'll kill dangerous organisms by getting the water hot enough to boil. They just can't survive the heat. But most authorities suggest letting the water boil for 10 minutes. I'll go along with this. There may be some part of the kettle that doesn't, immediately, get hot enough. If you let the water boil 10 minutes, you can be as sure that the whole container is clear of germs, too, and you aren't going to reinfect the water by pouring it over a contaminated lip.

YOU CAN ALSO get halazone tablets. When dropped in water they release chlorine, which is so widely used as a purifier. A couple of tablets to a pint are adequate.

The method widely used by the Army is to add two drops of iodine to a quart of water. Let the water stand for a half hour to be sure the iodine has worked thoroughly through the water.

Some people complain about the taste of boiled water—or rather its lack of taste, or "flatness." I'll pass on a trick which will be useful: Pour the water back and forth from one bottle or pail to another several times, and it will pick up air which has been driven off by boiling—just as you pour frozen juice back and forth to aerate it after you have mixed it.

For water which, because of chemical purification or other causes, still has an unpleasant flavor or smell, you can, if you want to go to the small bother, get rid of most of that by pouring the water through a filter consisting of charcoal in a container of some sort, say a cloth sack. Or (so I read, although I've never tried this myself) suspending in the water for a few minutes a clean cheesecloth bag full of clean charcoal. The charcoal absorbs the impurities which cause the taste or smell.

This is NOT a means of killing germs in the water. Just a method of making it more palatable in case the water was untasty to start with, or has absorbed flavor from the chlorine or iodine or whatever you use.

—:—

"Dear Dr. Molner: What is your opinion on hypnosis to help a person reduce?—Mrs. H.F."

If you mean to keep a patient permanently under hypnosis for that purpose, it doesn't sound good to me.

—:—

V.V.: No, eyestrain could not cause those lumps under the eyes.

—:—

Bed wetting can be conquered! To learn how, write to me in care of this newspaper requesting a copy of my booklet, "Enuresis—The Ways To Stop Bed Wetting," and enclosing a large self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Governor Intervenes In Cotton Mill Strike

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP)—Negotiations in the bitter Harriet-Henderson Cotton Mill strike shift to Gov. Luther Hodges' office today.

Hodges asked representatives of the company and Textile Workers Union of America to meet with him after saying that it was imperative that they settle the four-month-old strike at Henderson.

The governor said he would make no definite proposals but simply sit down and discuss matters.

The strike began Nov. 17 after the union was unable to get management to renew an arbitration clause in a new contract. Another issue is the seniority rights of employes who have been working since the mills reopened Feb. 16.

There have been numerous acts of violence.

Louis XIV of France, crowned at age 5 in 1643, lived until 1715.
